

Rise in Radiation Blamed on French Test, Not Russian

OTTAWA (CP) — On Feb. 23, 1960, at Whitehorse, Y.T., an increase in radioactivity in the air was recorded.

On Feb. 5 a similar observation was made at Vancouver and again at Ottawa March 29.

The assumption was that the increase, though recorded at only three of the 23 filter centres in Canada, was caused by the Feb. 13 French atomic bomb test in the Sahara.

Officials said Wednesday

chances are small that the increase was due to anything but the radioactive debris from the French nuclear test blown in an easterly direction more than three-quarters of the way around the world.

Authorities said, however, they are taking comfort from the fact that no abnormal radioactivity was recorded at Canadian stations in April, May or June.

This means that atomic debris from the smaller second French test April 1 did not reach this continent or, if it did, it was in insufficient quantity to be measured.

Officials said the daily Canadian samplings of the air have also shown that there have been no major secret nuclear tests in the Soviet Union, at least above ground.

Meanwhile, preparations have been nearly completed for Canadian radiation analysis of air, food, soil and water samples submitted by four countries which do not have the proper equipment to conduct such tests.

Names of the four countries have not yet been announced.

Excitement of hustings and sweet taste of victory behind him, a brisk, brusque Premier Bennett made an early appearance at his office yesterday and within minutes had waded grimly into pile of correspondence, a backlog of telephone messages and a gaggle of postponed decisions. — (Ryan Bros. photo.)

No Cabinet Move Yet

Lot of Things to Do Says Jaunty Bennett

BY TERRY HAMMOND

The dew was still thick on the lush lawns of the legislative buildings yesterday when a jaunty Premier W. A. C. Bennett bounded out of his limousine and slipped into his office almost unnoticed.

To this Colonist reporter he looked more like a champion who had just finished a light training session than a political St. George who had held at bay the "dragon" of socialism.

BRUSHED ASIDE
He brushed aside a flurry of questions with a broad grin and said he wouldn't have much to say for about 10 days, "when the final decision of the people will be known."

"We've got to get back to work," he said, almost as though the 38-day election campaign which put him and his party firmly back in the driver's seat had been a mere frivolous distraction from more important affairs.

LOT TO DO
"We've got a lot of things to do," he added, as he vanished behind the polished oak door of his office.

Speculation that one of the first things the premier would do is fill the two cabinet vacancies brought about by the defeat of Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy and Labor and Commercial Transport Minister Lyle Wicks was discounted by a high government source.

NOT PERMANENT
It was indicated that the vacancies would not be filled on a permanent basis for some time, possibly not until shortly before the next session of the legislature.

In the meantime, the three vacant portfolios are expected to be temporarily allocated to the present 10 cabinet ministers who are sharing 15 portfolios.

Point-by-Point Rebuttal

UN Chief Snaps Back At Harsh Red Critic

Renounce Atom War Head of Church Urges Canadians

EDMONTON (CP) — Canada should renounce nuclear war and refuse to participate in a nuclear war, Rt. Rev. Angus J. MacQueen, retiring moderator of the United Church of Canada, said Wednesday night.

There is nothing that could justify a nuclear war, he said in his farewell address as head of the largest Protestant communion in Canada. It claims more than 4,000,000 members and adherents.

NO DEFENCE

Dr. MacQueen, speaking to the 19th general council of the United Church, said the argument of self-defence cannot be supported because there is no possibility of defence in a nuclear war.

Dr. MacQueen, a London,

Ont., minister elected moderator two years ago, suggested that Canada support nuclear disarmament, a ban on nuclear bomb tests and an end to manufacture of nuclear bombs.

ALTERNATIVES

Dr. MacQueen said Canada should continue to support the United Nations and should co-operate with all nations in an attempt to find an alternative to war—a political alternative, an economic alternative, a psychological alternative and a spiritual alternative.

"We have reached the point where war is the ultimate evil against God and humanity and ethics and the future, and where indiscriminate and universal nuclear extermination is the worst possibility confronting us."

MONSTROUS

"We Christians must never be guilty of mute acceptance of such a monstrous possibility," he said.

Strike Vote Threatens For Railways

MONTREAL (CP) — The possibility of a strike vote among 118,000 Canadian non-operating railway employees was raised yesterday when the CPR and CNR rejected a conciliation board report which recommended a 14 cent-an-hour increase for the workers.

CNR President Donald Gordon and CPR President N. R. Crump set out the railway companies' stand in a letter to Labor Minister Starr Wednesday.

"... We must inform you that all of the recommendations contained in the report ... are unacceptable to the railways," the letter said.

Capsule Found!

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI) — U.S. air force computers here last night led two DC-54s to a "magic" discovery of the Discoverer XVI satellite capsule after all hope of finding it in the Pacific had gone.

Capsule couldn't be found for an air catch, so sketchy tracking information was fed into the computers, which predicted an impact point. The DC-54s, beaming into the area electronically, soon sighted the capsule's flashing light. An amphibious plane will pick up the capsule today.

Pearkes Puzzle Ending Today?

Speculation as to what the future holds for Defence Minister George Pearkes is expected to end today with a promise of announcements by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The prime minister was asked whether the announcements might be appointments and replied: "I wouldn't call them exactly appointments."

CABINET MOVE?

Reports from Ottawa indicate that Defence Minister Pearkes may have changed his mind about being named B.C.'s lieutenant-governor and may instead take a less onerous post than the present portfolio. One such post mentioned was that of veterans' affairs — a portfolio which is at present vacant.

DAG HAMMARSKJÖLD ... appreciated

VALERIAN ZORIN ... failed to mention

Personal Attack On Hammarskjöld

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Soviet Russia Wednesday night attacked Dag Hammarskjöld as a tool of imperialistic designs in Africa and received a stinging rebuke from the UN secretary-general.

After Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin unleashed his slashing attack on Hammarskjöld over UN actions in the Congo, the secretary-general, his voice almost breaking at times, declared that the African countries appreciated the work of the UN.

"It seems to me they deserve better than to be told they have been misled."

TO SAVE LIVES

Zorin had castigated him for recommending that some elements of the Congolese army be disbanded. But Zorin failed to mention, said Hammarskjöld, that the action was recommended to protect human life.

To Zorin's contention that UN forces in the Congo are dominated by NATO countries, Hammarskjöld said the 8,000-man force includes only 500 from NATO nations. That figure would have been cut by half had Poland contributed troops.

NO CASES

Hammarskjöld said he knew of no cases where UN troops had opposed the Congolese army as charged by Zorin. He appeared particularly hurt by the imperialistic references.

Zorin, in his 75-minute speech, attacked Hammarskjöld personally and rejected his plea that all aid to the Congo be channelled through the UN.

One long-time UN official said it was the harshest attack ever made on Hammarskjöld.

REDS OUT?

As Zorin neared the end of his speech, there was a stir in the gallery as press dispatches were passed around stating Joseph Mobutu had apparently ordered the Soviet embassy in Leopoldville placed under guard as a preliminary to expelling the Russians from the Congo.

Army Takes Control

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — The chief of staff of the Congolese army said Wednesday night the army is taking control to save the Congo.

Col. Joseph Mobutu said the army will rule until the struggle for power is settled between President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba.

KASAVUBU MAN

In the shifting fortunes of the Congo, Mobutu has been a Kasavubu man.

Mobutu asked full United Nations support. He also appealed for the co-operation of Congolese and foreign technicians.

Mobutu said it is still not clear what the positions of Kasavubu and Lumumba would be, but he called for the army to carry on and save the nation. His announcement was made in a brief radio broadcast.

FLEEING?

There were reports that Lumumba was fleeing to his home town of Stanleyville, but these could not be confirmed.

The announcement by Mobutu came shortly after Joseph Ileo, who was named premier by Kasavubu to replace Lumumba, claimed the army was swinging its support to the president.

Get in First Punch Eisenhower's Plan

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower will attempt to seize the initiative from Soviet Premier Khrushchev at the United Nations General Assembly by appearing there Sept. 22 to make specific proposals which, in formants said, may include a call for immediate resumption of East-West disarmament negotiations.

Eisenhower's journey to the UN, announced by the White House Wednesday, has been anticipated for some time.

Government sources said Eisenhower does not plan to offer any new or additional disarmament suggestions, standing firmly on the Western position of negotiating only step-by-step disarmament accompanied by iron-clad measures for inspection and control.

The plan is to have Eisenhower make a quick one-day appearance and deliver his punch before Khrushchev has seven months of this year and the opportunity to make a 1960's total may be only formal speech before the assembly, which opens Sept. 20, accidental death toll of 1,030.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Hurricane Ethel lumbered through the Gulf of Mexico last night, with its 150-mile-an-hour winds turning toward the Alabama-Florida coastline.

Mishaps Kill 588 in B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Safety Council said Wednesday, accidents claimed 588 lives in B.C. during the first nine months of this year and the opportunity to make a 1960's total may be only formal speech before the assembly, which opens Sept. 20, accidental death toll of 1,030.

Takes Up TV Time

Big Ben Too Majestically Slow

LONDON (Reuters) — The sonorous tolling of Big Ben, the world's most famous clock, is too slow for the supersonic age.

Starting Sunday, the BBC has decided that only the first stroke of the clock will be broadcast at the start of its main evening news program.

During the Battle of Britain,

the tolling of Big Ben at the start of the BBC nightly broadcast was a symbol to the world that Britain was still fighting. Now it has been decided that the old clock's cracked, 13-ton bell takes too long to toll the hour.

The BBC announcement said: "The world's most majestic clock is in its own majestic way among the slowest."

BBC to Use Lone Stroke

After all, the BBC pointed out, "when it has finished striking 10, the time has already advanced to almost three-quarters of a minute past the hour."

A protest over the abbreviated tolling of Big Ben over the BBC has been filed by the Big Ben Council, a group set up in 1949 for prayer and meditation while Big Ben tolls.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

Nowadays I find it hard to believe that I spent three years living in a trailer.

The trailer was only 13 feet long. You could pull two trailers that size into our living room and have a race. Almost anyway.

And yet it seems to me that I have rather less space to kick around in than in the trailer days. Somehow, the house seems smaller than the trailer.

Walk or Scrunch

If you are not rich enough to do this, there are two other remedies. Walk away from it all and never come back; or scrunch yourself a little smaller.

So far I have contented myself with the latter method.

In some devilish fashion, the walls of my house seem to be moving in a little every day; as though I were in a Spanish Inquisition torture chamber of the sort described by Edgar Allan Poe.

Somehow, new sharp, spiky

Usual Untidiness

And part of the trouble is ordinary untidiness. The debris closes in gradually so that a man doesn't notice it, until a lively tune on the radio raises a devilish idea in his wife's head.

"Come on, dance," she cries, and skips half-way out of the room, in female style, extending a hand backward to make sure of being caught.

A man lunges toward her, and catches his elbow a painful blow on a table that has appeared from nowhere, almost certainly chipping out a piece of bone.

Silicone Lotion Helps to Heal Finger Cracks

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband, who does general farming and is 53, has trouble with his hands.

"The fingers crack and get small, pinhead-sized blisters, pimples, which then break. The same trouble occurs in the palms.

"He has tried all sorts of lotions and medications, but the trouble persists in cycles, coming about every six weeks, and is worse in the winter—Mrs. C.K."

The three principle causes are these:

● If the skin is thickened (because of heavy work, for example) it loses its elasticity and may split instead of expanding.

● External irritation is doubtless a more frequent cause—irritation from oils, chemicals, dust, paints, varnishes, etc., or a skin disease such as eczema.

● Cracking can occur in people who eat such a poorly-balanced diet that they become deficient in vitamins.

Of course, it is entirely possible that two or more factors may combine to cause the trouble.

It is also possible for a person not used to heavy work to develop cracks when they use their hands in some rugged

U.S. Sending 800 Airmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—

About 200 U.S. airmen will be stationed at each of four Canadian airfields to be used by refueling tanker planes of the U.S. Air Force.

An average of four KG-97 jet tanker planes will work from each base.

The fields at Frobisher, N.W.T., Churchill, Man., Nain, Nfld., and Cold Lake, Alta., will be used to refuel tanker planes taking off and landing with aerial refueling of bombers conducted over remote, uninhabited areas.

Two Ghost Towns At Leechtown Now

Tourists Finish Relics

By CHARLES THOMPSON
LEECHTOWN — This hamlet with one permanent resident can claim the distinction of having two ghost towns.

One is clouded in history with the taint of gold and the other by modern economics and the changing face of logging.

Mayor Jack Hutchison says: "We're proud of our little town."

Jack Hutchison, president of the Chamber of Commerce, says: "We're doing a booming business. Sometimes we just have to turn tourists away."

Police Chief Jack Hutchison says: "There's been so many on weekends this year that we don't even have parking room."

Mr. Hutchison is the town's only permanent resident. He tends the Sooke Lake Logging Co. gate.

"Please notify caretaker before going up the hill," a sign says.

DILAPIDATED CAIRN
You look for the nearest hill with a road or trail. Just over the Sooke River that meanders through the rocks, you may see a cairn—but only if your eyes are sharp.

It is dilapidated. A plaque reads: "Memorial erected by B.C. Historical Association on site of gold commissioner's house to commemorate discovery of gold on Sooke River by Lieut. P. J. Leech, July, 1864, and to mark the site of Leechtown which sprang up following discovery."

That's all. There are no buildings.
The cairn is just off a logging road, in bracken and maples and underbrush. Crisscrossing trails lead off into the murky light beneath the trees. About 100 feet from the cairn are the shattered walls of a log cabin decaying beneath a two-foot tree that dropped on it.

This is the Leechtown you'd looked forward to seeing?

There is another plaque on the cairn. It reads: "All historic objects in this vicinity have been placed under the protection of the Historic Objects Preservation Act of B.C. and any interference is subject to penalty."

The warning did little good. Even it was nearly torn off.

CLOSED IT ALL
"We finally closed it all. They were taking anything that would move," said a company official.

A little farther on, at the left fork of the road, are mounds of rotting wood, a water tank and several little buildings like chicken houses. This is Leechtown. Only a log cabin retains any semblance of a house.

The second ghost town is beside the railway track. There is an empty schoolhouse, a store, eight big houses, a huge community bathroom—and rusting car bodies.

Three or four men are busy during the week cleaning up logging operations. They don't stay weekends. Ultimately the operations will close, an official said yesterday.

It will be another death in the life of Leechtown.

Abandoned by Sooke Lake Lumber, this is the scene of a new Leechtown ghost town. Workers stay in cabins, not shown here, during the week, but don't stay during weekends. Officials said yesterday that soon all workers will be at Buttle Lake. — (Colonist photo by Charles Thompson.)

Sentences Split For 13-Year-Olds

Two boys, both 13, were sentenced in Colwood juvenile court yesterday on charges arising from thefts from cars at Thetis Lake.

One, with no previous record, was placed on probation; the other was sentenced to Brannan Lake. Each was ordered to repay $10.50—$21 having been stolen from wallets taken from the cars.

In the same court a 12-year-old girl was made a ward of the Children's Aid Society following conviction on a break-and-entry charge.

Two other juveniles were fined in Colwood for being minors in possession of liquor. One, aged 17, was fined $10; the second, 16 years, $5.

William Herbert Ash, 55, of 910 Market, pleaded guilty in city police court to theft of records valued at $29 from the Hudson's Bay store and was

Plumbing Law Streamlined

A streamlined version of a plumbing bylaw was approved by Central Saanich council this week.

Building inspector Ernest Lee told council there were no drastic changes in the bylaw. It had been altered to make it easier for a layman to read and included new septic tank requirements previously outlined by council.

Destroyer Practises On Wrong Target

CANBERRA (Reuters)—One thing was clear yesterday following a training exercise by two Australian destroyers—they needed the practice.
The destroyers Tobruk and Anzac were ordered to take target practice. One of the Anzac's first salvoes bashed into the Tobruk, opening a hole near the waterline. The water poured in but the Tobruk was reported to be in no danger.
The red-faced crew of the Anzac was standing by in case the Tobruk needed a tow.

Russians Riding Rockets?

LONDON (UPI)—A London newspaper reported yesterday that Russia had fired rocket cones with human occupants 60 miles into space and would announce the feat when Premier Khrushchev arrives for the United Nations General Assembly session in New York.

The report—which had no official confirmation from either Soviet or Western circles—came from Daily Express science writer Chapman Pincher.

DOWN SAFELY

He said Soviet astronauts, riding in cabin-like nose cones attached to giant missiles, had gone up to the 60-mile level and returned safely to earth.

Pincher said Khrushchev would wait until the General Assembly session opens Tuesday to announce the launchings. But The Daily Mail, commenting on "talk" of a Russian first in manned space flight, said the announcement may come from the Soviet premier in the next 48 hours.

Soviet scientists at an international air conference in Zurich, Switzerland, denied any knowledge Russia had sent men into space. Spokesmen in Moscow had no immediate comment.

QUITE FEASIBLE

J. Leonard Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society, said the type of launching described by The Daily Express would be "quite feasible" in the light of present scientific knowledge, and even relatively easy.

"The straight-up-and-down shot is the safest of all," he said. "It reduces the problems of heat through friction, tracking and re-entry to a minimum."

A Deplorable Attitude

IT is difficult to understand the reluctance of Western leaders to attend the forthcoming session of the United Nations General Assembly, seemingly quite willing to let Soviet Premier Khrushchev steal the limelight.

The Russian leader's invitation to heads of all UN member nations to attend the session to turn it into a sort of grand summit convention has been eagerly accepted by such important Afro-Asian countries as India, Pakistan, Egypt, Ghana and Indonesia. Indications are that Premier Tito of Yugoslavia and Dr. Castro of Cuba will also attend.

A quick analysis of these countries alone should persuade the West to do something to counteract the obvious Soviet propaganda gambit. Of the Afro-Asian nations listed only Pakistan stands apart from the other traditional cold war fence-sitters. The others have all received vast economic assistance from the Western powers but are all under Soviet influence to some degree. They could go either way at any time.

As for Yugoslavia, although its relations with the Soviet Union are strained, it still remains a Communist nation, while Cuba stands in the category of a fellow-traveller.

It is obvious that the leaders of these countries are coming to the United Nations to hear something. The thing that they hear could persuade them to change course.

The danger, of course, is that they will hear only the Russian side of the argument, for all the Western leaders—apart from President Eisenhower—will be sitting safely and comfortably at home.

This attitude, whether it be one of fear or indifference, must be deplored. Through it Western influence and unity will suffer.

Helpful But Modest

THE plans outlined by Transport Minister Hees for patrol cutters on both coasts are timely and welcome, but their effect should not be magnified. This does not mean a coast guard service like that of the U.S.A., for instance. The latter is a force comparable to a branch of the armed forces, something Canada cannot afford.

The new cutters will be designed primarily for extension of the present all-sea rescue system. They will not be armed nor will they substitute for RCMP marine operations in any way. Their role is to add to the prevention of marine accidents by patrolling waters where pleasure boats and other craft are sailing.

In a general sense of course they will complement the safety picture and be of value in all emergencies, so that their addition to the present co-ordinated rescue system will be helpful. If as indicated a new weather radar set-up is also found practicable so much the good.

As a fillip to the local shipbuilding industry however the effect will be modest. At most only two of the proposed six cutters would be built on this coast, and the vessels will not be large. Nevertheless every little order helps to keep shipwrights at work.

Safety in the Crosswalks

DURING the first two days of the new school year the police in Calgary issued 31 summonses and 83 warnings to motorists who failed to heed the speed limits in school zones; and the Calgary Albertans notes with approval that these figures are considerably lower than in the corresponding period last year.

From this it would appear that either Victoria's drivers are better and more considerate than Calgary's, which is doubtful, or that the local system of control is much more effective. Prosecutions of that sort have become a rarity here, because there is no need for them.

As a matter of fact a child in Greater Victoria can be a lot safer in a school crossing than in his own home or at play outside. Endangering young pedestrians just isn't done.

Difficult or exasperating as some of them may be elsewhere, Victoria motorists in the vicinity of school crossings are models of courtesy, and the district's safety record in that respect is exemplary. Parents may see toddlers off to school confident in the knowledge that no harm will come to them when using the designated crosswalks.

Some of the credit for this belongs to the motorists themselves. Most of it goes to the junior safety patrol system under which little boys and girls exercise with the backing of law the powers of police officers to regulate traffic. Some goes also to the authorities for scrapping the old restricted-speed school zones in favor of the stop-when-occupied crosswalk system. That wise action has had the effect of improving the flow of traffic, especially during the hours when children are in school, and, contradictory as it may seem, of making the crossings safer for children.

Victoria's motorists in general may have a lot to learn about big-city practices and driving on express highways; but the city can be proud of them where children are concerned.

Continuing Liability

IT looks as though the dissident Sons of Freedom will always be with us. Word comes from Mr. Stefan Sorokin, the spiritual leader who came back recently from South America—to which he had gone eight years ago ostensibly to find a new home for his people—that he doubts whether the sect will ever leave B.C.

The doubts are warranted. One is forced to the conclusion the Sons never intended to leave here, and that all previous overtures towards departure were merely so much pretence. There are few places wherein their burnings, terrorism and disobedience would have been tolerated for so long as in this province.

Even the flirting with the Soviets had a suspect ring, backed as it was by the generous offer by Canada to pay their way to Russia if they wanted to go there. There was never reality to this intention of a return to their original homeland. Nor did the U.S.S.R. seem anxious for their company, for which perhaps the Sons should be thankful. One Soviet railway line blown up and that would have been the end of the Sons of Freedom.

This sect is something which apparently B.C. will have to go on living with. The hope must be that as younger members of the Sons grow up they will break away from tribal influences and become in spirit what they are by birth, Canadian citizens.

Interpreting the News

A Diplomatic Slap

By HAROLD MORRISON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOVIET Premier Khrushchev seems to have seized upon the tough travel curbs imposed upon him by the United States as a possible means of sowing dissension among Western Allies.

In a cable to a British newspaper which asked for his comments, the Soviet leader, now at sea, describes the U.S. government action as unreasonable and not conducive to better Russian-American understanding.

He concludes that the U.S. doesn't want to settle any of the major issues that would be brought up to the United Nations General Assembly where disarmament measures are to be debated.

The decision to restrict his U.S. travels to Manhattan Island in New York is the most stringent ever imposed against a visiting UN delegation. Apparently, Khrushchev has aroused some sentiment in his favor among some British newspapers.

David Lawrence, a syndicated U.S. columnist and supporter of the Eisenhower administration, has retorted that if the British don't have such an "affinity" of politeness to dictators and had been tougher with Hitler in the 1930s, "there might not have been a Second World War."

This is the sort of emotional argument

Communists relish. There is no indication that the U.S. government first consulted with her Allies before deciding to tie up Khrushchev's UN appearance into a shoe-box visit.

The official U.S. reason given for the travel restriction is that Khrushchev presents a security risk—more so since the return of the cold war—and that the curb is necessary to make sure Khrushchev stays alive.

Privately, U.S. diplomats add that the restrictions are intended also as a diplomatic slap, to repay Khrushchev for having cancelled President Eisenhower's trip to Russia, for insulting the president and shooting down an American reconnaissance plane off Russia's northern coast.

It appears from this that the U.S. doesn't expect to get much out of the Khrushchev appearance at the UN. State Secretary Herter inferred as much when he said in a speech last week: "In the field of diplomacy... the outlook right now is not promising."

He added that while the U.S. is prepared to consider serious proposals designed to reduce world tension, "I wish that I could discern in the present Soviet attitude an equal willingness to behave in a responsible fashion."

"What if I were to threaten to turn up at the UN wearing one of these?"

Thinking Aloud

of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

A READER who says the voters have never been so confused as during the past few weeks finds refreshment, he writes, in a verse by Emily Dickinson. Lest the hurly-burly has affected you too, I pass the refreshment along, to wit:

Autumn

The morns are meeker than they were,
The nuts are getting brown;
The berry's cheek is plumper,
The rose is out of town.
The maple wears a gayer scarf,
The field a scarlet gown.
Lest I should be old-fashioned,
I'll put a trinket on.

We call the season Fall, which seems the more appropriate since that is what the leaves do and in most indiscriminate fashion. If they would cast all their ballots at once as voters did on Monday, and cease their stripe-tease act, humble leaf-rakers like yours, truly would be very much obliged.

The term Fall is not the Americanism it is commonly thought to be, being in fact the popular expression of Autumn in Elizabethan days, from whence it was transferred to become the modern idiom of the new world. Witness that post-Elizabethan master of the poetic art, Alexander Pope, when he said:

"The strains decay,
And melt away,
In a dying, dying fall."

That, perhaps, is what some candidates will be thinking as they address themselves to a winter of regret, their hopes dashed, their longings frustrated. All of the unlucky ones, and who is to say luck does not play its part—some people may vote by the pin or some equally irrelevant method—deserve our commiseration.

They will be feeling melancholy, I wot, and it will be no consolation that this sentiment matches the Fall season.

The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year.

So wrote William Cullen Bryant, although being a poet of nature he was lamenting the death of flowers and not thinking of election results. Had he been in Victoria, of course, he would not have given up so easily but instead followed the flower's fight for survival.

What lines he would have penned could he know that some day in this transplanted piece of Shakespeare's sceptred isle—tourist guide language—the roses might bloom on Christmas Day!

The Autumn, then, is not necessarily the season of decay, as the poets all seem to have it and as undoubtedly the losing politicians in a Fall election are apt to conclude. Autumn in any case is but the forerunner of winter and when Shelley asked "If winter comes can spring be far behind?" the answer obviously was no. And since spring is the time of rejuvenation then hope may rise eternal again in even the most dejected political breast.

But Autumn has its joys and when one steps out into the garden of a September morn the echo of Bliss Carman rings true: "There is something in the autumn that is native to my blood." John Donne, too, had a word to add: "No spring or summer beauty hath such grace, as I have seen in one autumnal face."

That means serenity, and perhaps it is to the poets that unsuccessful B.C. candidates should turn for the healing of their wounds.

Gerald Waring Reporting

Reports from Ottawa

THE man who revived a bright idea for getting the auto industry to stand on its own feet is braced off by industry's brushoff.

Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, chairman of the B.C. Power Commission and former United Nations under-secretary, concludes that "The leaders of our commercial life are not as full of initiative and action as one would like to see them. They complain they can't sell abroad, yet they've done nothing about it."

The Keenleyside causticity followed months in which Dr. Keenleyside had no reaction whatsoever from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to the "Keenleyside Plan" to split the North American motor vehicle market between car manufacturers in Canada and the United States.

Keenleyside accuses the country's industrial leaders of being in a mental rut. With their high costs pricing their products out of foreign markets, and in some cases out of the domestic market as well, they have proposed remedial action that has rarely gone beyond the unimaginative suggestions of employee wage cuts and increased tariff protection.

"It's very tiresome," Dr. Keenleyside told me while I was in Victoria the other day. "Our business community is not very sophisticated—not nearly as sophisticated as those in the United States and Britain."

The Keenleyside plan—zeroed on the auto industry, but applicable to other selected industries as well—calls for the abolition of Canadian tariffs on U.S. motor vehicles, and vice versa, and the division of the market north of the Rio Grande between American and Canadian car manufacturers.

Under this plan, Windsor, Oshawa and Oakville would produce all the cars and trucks of certain makes and models for both the U.S. and Canadian markets, and Detroit would produce all other models for both countries.

Keenleyside admits his idea is not original. It was discussed but not acted upon in 1943, when Canadian and American war production planners were considering how wartime production co-operation might advantageously be extended into the post-war era by the auto industries of both countries. Indeed, the plan has been in limited operation in the farm implement industry for some time, having developed almost naturally from the fact that neither country imposes tariffs on farm machinery. Thus Massey-Ferguson is able to make all its combines in Canada, for sale in both countries, and all its tractors in the U.S.

In spite of the indifference of industrialists, aside from the farm implement people, the plan is now being re-studied and re-assessed by Prof. V. W. Bladen, the noted economist of the University of Toronto, whom Prime Minister Diefenbaker appointed as a one-man royal commission to investigate the ills of the auto industry and propose cures. Dean Bladen recently wrote Dr. Keenleyside to get details.

The auto industry, the country's fourth largest, exported 40 per cent of its production 15 years ago, and the competition of imported cars was negligible. Now it exports 5 per cent, and small European cars have taken 24 per cent of the home market.

The Canadian industry has always been uneconomic, requiring tariff protection and sharply higher prices than those prevailing in the U.S. because of the limited Canadian market. The Keenleyside plan would give it a large market for fewer models. The industry could then compete better with European imports, and we'd all get our cars several hundred dollars cheaper.

The Day Never Ends

By GREGORY CLARK

MOST of us work in factories, stores, offices, and the working day ends at 5 or 5.30. We share in that vast exodus of the home-going that is perhaps the most characteristic, familiar feature of modern life. It is, perhaps our commonest experience, the one we share the most.

We realize, of course, that a few people work after our working day has ended. The street car and bus drivers, the telephone girls, the waitresses and waiters in the after-hour restaurants, the short order cooks at midnight. Vaguely we are conscious that somebody must be keeping the street lights glowing, the power in our homes in the night. Sometimes, when our way takes us past the downtown, we see lights burning in factories, and we recollect that there are such things as night shifts.

But the place to get a real shock about our fellow mortals and how they live is in the downtown head post office that stays open until nearly midnight. If you have to post a rush letter, and you penetrate the kind of deserted downtown streets where main post offices are located, you will see, bearing armfuls of special delivery letters, cartons, or large manilla envelopes, intense-looking individuals rushing in shirt sleeves to catch the last train's mail. You will see cloistered-looking middle-aged women, and elderly men who appear to have missed some boat, hurrying with packages, parcels. These are the nightworkers of commerce. In silent, lonely offices, they have been toiling long hours after all the rest of us have gone home.

We are mistaken in thinking the day ends at 5 or 5.30. The day never ends. In law and in commerce, it is 24 hours long.

Candidates On Tour

By MARQUIS CHILDS

LOS ANGELES—As the two presidential candidates whirl back and forth across the continent at a speed that would tax the energies of Rafer Johnson, the great Olympic decathlon champion, the question inevitably arises as to how much this vast expenditure of time, effort and money really counts in the era of television and the jet plane.

What it gets down to is this: are elections today won in this fashion or are they determined—predetermined really—in the deep substratum of emotion and prejudice, the well-being of a job or the bitter experience of joblessness, the vague hope of tomorrow or the frustration and resentment of yesterday?

But—as Senator John F. Kennedy is discovering in this, his first, nationwide campaign—for the candidate the question is, in any event, academic. He is under tremendous pressure to go here, there and everywhere.

If the candidate says no, that his vocal cords, his right hand, his legs, simply cannot endure any more he may alienate the party faithful, who will sit it out—rather than get out the vote. That is the threat constantly held over the hapless individual who must try to maintain some calm and common sense at the eye of the storm.

But Kennedy's voice, which he has not yet learned to project properly, is in need of a rest. Speaking five or six times a day and holding forth to local politicians in between would put a strain on the vocal cords and the lungs of a carnival barker. To pour it out seven days a week is to risk sounding mechanical and forced, with nothing but the same old clichés to utter.

The candidate knows this and yet, in what is obviously to be a fiercely fought contest, it is hard to resist the pressures. Perhaps Podunkville can mean the difference between winning or losing an election—that Nixon and others have said will be the closest in this century. For the candidate it must be a haunting thought when he has finally shaken the last hand and shut himself away for a brief respite of sleep and contemplation.

Yet Kennedy, who has a large order of political know-how and intuition, is surely aware that a great deal of this activity has about the same significance as the rain dance of the Navajo Indians. He arrives at the airport where the local politicians have worked hard to get a well-coming crowd of party dignitaries and ardent partisans. (On the current tour, perhaps because it is early in the campaign, these efforts have not been too successful.) Then, sitting on the back of an open car, he drives into the centre of town where a crowd has been assembled. He speaks for 10 or 15 minutes, shakes hands all around and is off for the airport again.

Inevitably, he must wonder if it is only to the party faithful—the regulars and the converts to whom he has been speaking, and in all probability nine-tenths of the time he will be right about this surmise. In the era of television, which brings the candidate into the home, it has become increasingly difficult to get people out to an old-fashioned political rally. And this is particularly true when the proceedings are to be televised. The ordinary citizen will think twice before he drives to the centre of town, finds a place to park, walks two or three blocks to the hall and then gets in a traffic jam going home.

Because of the enormous distractions of television, catering to an audience with a span of attention computed at three minutes at the most and increasingly fed on violence and sensation, even a presidential candidate in an election conceded to be as important as any in the past century finds it hard to get the public attention. And hold it. Kennedy is competing with "Gunsmoke" and "The Untouchables" in his first cross-country tour, and the competition is rough. He has discovered, in his initiation in whistle-stopping in California, that it is easier to do this from a train, since people still seem to come down to the railroad station to view the man in person.

But quite apart from the popularity meter of crowds and crowd reaction there is one very good reason for participating in the tribal dance with the faithful, and it could be the secret to success in November. That is to steam them up so they will work hard at the all-important task of registering the thousands eligible to vote but who would not go to the polls if they were not persuaded to put their names on the voting rolls.

There can be no guarantee that they will vote Democratic on election day or, for that matter, that they will vote at all. But at least they will be registered and eligible. Even so, despite all the time, money, shoe leather and lung power expended by everyone from the candidate on down to the lowliest precinct worker, there are no guarantees of any kind. That is the fascination of a national election—and of this one in particular.

Wasteful Rule

In my opinion, whoever was responsible for the change in regulations regarding grilse fishing should take another look at the situation.

This last weekend while fishing in an area where grilse are plentiful but where few are 12 inches or more in length, the under-size ones were being tossed back so frequently that the seagulls were following the boats.

As far as I can see, and I have been fishing around here for years, the regulation is causing a far greater wasting of fish than no regulation at all. It seems to me that a commonsense solution would have been to keep the original minimum length and remember to see that the thing was enforced.

This last weekend for every grilse of 12 inches or longer that was caught, I venture to suggest that 15 were thrown back, and I doubt whether five out of the 15 would survive.

Deeds First

The time has more than arrived when we should jot up the reasons for re-election of the Sacred Government. In my opinion it has been "Deeds rather than words." These can be cited down the years and include the old malignant Doukhobor question right to the present when the "cri" has been taken out of most crises towards constructive action.

The victory of the Sacred's speaks a closeness to the needs of this province and its people; their majority has been deservedly won. No recent government has listened so noticeably following it by action.

Leave Them Alone

In my opinion, which is doubtless held by many others, the UN is making a terrible mistake by trying to bring about peace to the Congo through threat of arms, which can only lead to more unrest and murderous intent.

Let them solve their own difficulties alone; it will all come out in the wash one way or the other and when it's settled let's do all we can to help keep it clean.

There's no sense in jumping into a pot while it's boiling; one is liable to get burned.

go to Works Minister W. N. Chant, a former agriculture minister in Alberta's Aberhart government; commercial transport to Attorney-General Robert Bonner and labor to Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan.

But the ministerial vacancies must be filled eventually, and the new appointments will almost surely be named before the next session of the legislature, which government sources yesterday indicated would start during the last week in January.

It was considered extremely unlikely yesterday that the premier would attempt to hold the two defeated ministers to step down and create by-election opportunities.

Astute opinion around the legislative buildings was that Similkameen's Frank Richter is ultimately a shoo-in for the agriculture post, but two other possibilities are Saanich's John Tisdale and Omineca's Cyril Shelford.

Schooling Improves

More Graduating in Canada

OTTAWA (CPI) — Some nine per cent of Canadian youths reach university and about six per cent graduate with a degree, the bureau of statistics estimated Wednesday.

These and other statistics are contained in a bureau report entitled "Student progress through the schools, by grade, 1960."

The statistics were computed from data covering several recent school years and provide "fairly conclusive evidence" that the 1950s were characterized by a gradual increase in the average level of schooling in all parts of the country.

Higher proportions of students now are graduating from high school than was the case five or 10 years ago. Students in British Columbia and Alberta remain in school longer than those in other provinces. There is "some indication" that other provinces are narrowing the gap.

The bureau said its data confirms the general opinion that students who drop out of the lower grades generally obtain employment in unskilled and laboring occupations. Those dropping out of higher grades in secondary schools were more likely to settle into occupations of a semi-skilled, commercial or clerical nature.

Time to Build Soil

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Even though we are still enjoying the harvests from our gardens, the start of another busy planting season is already upon us. The flood of bulb and nursery catalogues in the mail is a sure sign of this.

Your fall planning should certainly include a program for soil building, since gardening success depends upon the condition of the soil. As I have mentioned so many times, it isn't enough to scatter chemical fertilizer on the ground every year—valuable as these plant nutrients are, they must be supplemented with materials which will renew the supply of humus, otherwise the soil texture gradually deteriorates.

For the efficient conditioning of soil, there is still nothing that can beat a load of mellow old manure, preferably dug in shallowly during the fall months. Under its influence, hungry light soil becomes more retentive of moisture, while sticky, heavy clay becomes friable and more congenial to plant roots. Manure contains some plant food, but in a not-too-well-balanced form, and should be supplemented by summer dressings of fertilizer. But in addition, manure is about our only practicable source for essential but obscure hormones and enzymes secreted within the glands of the animal.

Where manure is not available or inconvenient to use, cover crops make excellent soil conditioners, and of these rye is about the best, and I mean rye the grain, not rye grass. Rye produces a thick mass of deeply growing fibrous roots and, when turned under, it adds a grand supply of organic, humus-forming material to the soil.

This addition changes the whole character of the soil. It retains moisture better, it has better structure, forming a "crumb" which admits air more readily, it is easier to work, more congenial to root growth, and chemical fertilizers don't leach out of it so freely during the winter rains. Sow rye on vacant ground at the rate of three pounds per 1,000 square feet, raking it in to a depth of about an inch, then tread or roll with a lawn roller. Given enough soil moisture, the grain should be up within a week. Topgrowth will continue until really severe weather arrives, after which it will stand still, making no growth above ground, but maintaining a good cover to break the force of the winter rain which would otherwise puddle the ground. Root growth continues throughout the winter and the whole can be turned under in the spring, well in advance of sowing or planting time.

Always give the cover crop a good sprinkle of fertilizer before digging it in. Seed of fall rye will cost 10 cents per lb. in small quantities, about half this amount in 100-pound lots.

On land which is to remain uncropped next year, a good green manure crop is crimson clover—not red clover, which is a different variety. Crimson clover is an annual and, if sown before the end of this month, it will germinate and make some growth this fall, persist through the winter, then resume growth very early in the spring. Turned under in midsummer, it will leave the soil in grand shape for the planting of fruit trees, perennials, shrubs and the like next fall.

Unlike rye, clover actually enriches the soil with nitrates, thanks to the nitrogen-fixing bacteria which live on the roots. Crimson clover is sown at the rate of half a pound per 1,000-square feet, and costs about 50 cents a pound.

Hollywood Today

Previn Out After Dispute

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — Danny Kaye and "Oscar" musician Andre Previn had a difference of opinion about the music for Danny's upcoming television spectacular, after Andre had a difference of opinion with Mrs. Kaye—Sylvia Fine—who has always taken care of the music for Danny and done very well for him. Andre, I'm told, is no longer with Danny.

Paul Newman is jubilant because he will have paid off the $500,000 he owes Warner Bros. for getting his release by the end of this year. He did it with three movies—"From the Terrace," "Exodus" and the about-to-go-into-production "Paris Blues."

Paul and wife Joanne Woodward have formed their own company, and now hope to be able to save some of the thousands of dollars they earn.

British star Joan Greenwood of the fascinating frog-like voice will do "Hedda Gabler" on the West End stage with her husband, Andre Morell. "We're like teen-age children in love," Joan told me when I was in London this summer, adding, "If we are not too old." Is anyone too old to act like a teen-ager in love?

Joe Mankiewicz will start "Justine" in January, probably in Paris. And every star wants to be in this Walter Wanger production.

Gary Merrill explained to me why he and Bette Davis divorced: "Bette and I had a different way of life. And we were hurting the children."

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

A couple of days ago I had to call an associate in Des Moines, Iowa. My home is in Westchester County, 20 miles up the Hudson from New York City.

So I dialed the area code (515) and within a few seconds I was talking to the man I wanted.

We've had long-distance direct dialing in this area only for the past year or two. It's one of the great pleasures of my life. I know of few things that give me such a thrill of satisfaction as casually ringing up Iowa, 1,200 miles away.

Finally, a Party

Of course there used to be regular long-distance telephoning. But then you had to call the operator; the operator had to call someone else for routing; then there was the routing, by way of one, two, three intervening points, and finally, you got your party.

I don't say this was a tremendous hardship, but psychologically it makes all the difference in the world when you can call half-way across the continent without even the slightest effort or delay. At least to me it does. Bell Telephone has gotten quite a few extra dollars out of me by installing this constant temptation right at my elbow.

My sister, for instance, has been living in Washington, D.C., for a number of years. Before long-distance dialing came in, I used to write her an occasional letter; from time to time, I phoned.

Now I call her frequently, whenever the spirit moves me and I feel like a nice, aimless, brotherly chat. Two days ago I called them and they had a party at their house; after a minute or two they clearly wanted to hang up, but I felt like talking some more and so I did.

People always say the world has gotten smaller, what with telephones, television, jet planes and so on. But that isn't quite it. What really makes the difference is the amount of time, effort and money necessary to get across a given distance. Sure it's possible to pay $1,000 and fly to Indonesia; but that doesn't bring Indonesia a bit closer to me, sitting here without the necessary wherewithal.

Direct distance dialing is something else entirely. The effort of dialing 515 or 202

While husband Tony Curtis has been toiling in "The Sixth Man," wife Janet Leigh has been running a nursery school for 15 small children at their home and also working on the charity premiere of "Spartacus" in which Tony has a role.

Incidentally, the Kirk Douglas film, "Day of the Gun," with Rock Hudson, won't be shown until next spring—because Kirk's "Spartacus" has priority, and he has an Oscar in mind. So does Otto Preminger for "Exodus." Also Stanley Kramer with his fine movie version of "Inherit the Wind." These biggies will all be in the running.

From Walter Wanger, who is in charge of 20th Century-Fox production in Europe and currently on the sound stages with Elizabeth Taylor's "Cleopatra." "It's not easier and it's not more economical to make pictures in Europe, but it's more exciting."

Walter has a lot of firsts to his credit. He made the first psychiatric film—I believe it was "Private Worlds," with Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer—the first political picture, "Gabriel Over the White House," and the first outdoor Technicolor movie, "Trail of the Lonesome Pine." He has been active in moviemaking since 1919.

And, among other achievements, Wanger brought Paramount a great property when he purchased Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy" classic for $90,000. Very cheap—but not as cheap as David Selznick's bargain when he bought "Tender Is the Night" from the F. Scott Fitzgerald estate in 1947 for $17,500.

Lawrence Durrell, author of "Justine," has been writing some new dialogue for "Cleopatra," and another interesting thing about this epic is that, while the movie is on location in Egypt, a documentary will be made of all the monuments that will be moved to make way for the Aswan Dam, so that the world will see what will be lost, and perhaps save the historic buildings to be put up on another site.

Poor Princess Ira Furstenburg. She's losing her Rolls-Royce Phantom V, and her Bentley Continental—both cars having been ordered for her, then cancelled, by billionaire "Baby" Pignatelli. All of which gives proof to the rumor that this once-torrid romance is in the cooler.

Elizabeth Taylor has nerves of iron. She has again rented the penthouse at the Dorchester in London where she and Mike Todd honeymooned—for her three children and their nurse, and Eddie Fisher will be there of course. There must be another big suite for rent somewhere in London.

Richard Widmark, in Vienna for "The Secret Ways," bought a book of tickets for the Josefstadt Theatre season. "Both my leading ladies, Sonja Ziemann and Senta Berger, have played at this theatre which was founded by Max Reinhardt."

Charles Laughton had to lose 49 pounds before his recent operation. This must have been very hard on him, because Charles doesn't believe in cutting down on his food intake. . . . Wife Elsa Lanchester filled in the time with a role in "Adventures in Paradise." It was tough. Gardner McKay had to haul her out of the water after the schooner she was on was wrecked in a gale. "We did it three times, for long, medium and close shots," said Elsa, shivering. "It reminded me of 'The Beach-Comber,' which Charles and I did about 25 years ago."

Australia Chooses French Jet

CANBERRA (Reuters) — The Australian Air Force has selected a French jet plane in preference to an American aircraft for its new front-line supersonic fighter, reliable sources said yesterday.

The sources said that an Australian Air Force mission which recently inspected aircraft in the United States and Europe considers the French Dassault Mirage III superior to the American Lockheed F-104—a single-seat multi-mission fighter.

'It Is My Duty To Go to School For My Country'

As Canada's schools open their doors to 1,300,000 children, reporter Jack Hutton begins a series of articles that take you into the schools behind the Iron Curtain.

MOSCOW (TNS) — The blonde girl, standing against the background of skyscraper-like Moscow University, looked down the hill at mushrooming Moscow and said:

"It is my duty to go to school.

"Unless I learn as much as I can, I will not give as much as I can to my country. No one gets anywhere in Russia without a good education."

She spoke softly, but that didn't matter. No one who has visited the Soviet Union for even 24 hours doubts the devotion of the Russian people to education.

Many Ideas Reversed

Two weeks is a frustratingly short time to learn anything—particularly in the Soviet Union—but it is long enough to reverse any stereotyped ideas of Russian education.

For example:

- The Soviet Union school plant comes nowhere close to ours.
- The mental preparation of a Russian child goes far beyond anything we can imagine.

Time for Experience

Secondary school has been extended from 10 years to 11 years. This was to allow time for actual experience at factories or farms.

About 20 per cent of the secondary school's graduates go on to university.

The question which no one has yet answered is whether the U.S.S.R. somehow teaches its children more during their

Defector Says:

Russians Planning Surprise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A young Russian navy captain who defected to the West 15 months ago testified yesterday that Soviet military strategy since 1955 has been based on "the doctrine of surprise attack in nuclear warfare."

WANTS ACTION

The Russian, speaking through an interpreter at a congressional hearing, said: "I believe that the Soviet dictatorship would undertake a surprise attack if she felt she could win in one stroke."

Khrushchev does not wish to wait indefinitely for the United States to become a socialist state by evolution. . . . he would like to see it take place in his lifetime."

The testimony was given by 32-year-old Nikolai Artamonov before a House subcommittee on un-American activities.

Near 10 Downing Street

Five Caught Napping With Dynamite Load

LONDON (UPI)—Five men realized just how careless they were when they parked a car laden with 127 sticks of dynamite close by No. 10 Downing Street.

Too many trips to a pub near the residence of Prime Minister Macmillan led to the exposure of what detectives first believed was a political plot because two of the principals were Irishmen.

The men drove into London last July to sell their dynamite on the black market at $14 a stick. It was a hard drive from Birmingham so they stopped at a pub to refresh themselves.

They were found napping in their car.

Tenders Next Fall For Coast Guard

OTTAWA (CP) — Plans are being discussed to put into uniform the men who sail the transport department's fleet of almost 200 vessels, informed sources said Wednesday.

New cap badges and flags, even ensigns for the transport minister and his deputies, have been designed and approved.

Marine Service operates 30 large icebreakers, lighthouse supply and buoy tenders and more than 130 smaller pilot boats, work boats, landing craft and tugs.

The branch also will have charge of six new cutters, planned for search and rescue and shipping safety work.

Transport Minister Hees said Tuesday the government has authorized construction of the cutters, two each for the east and west coasts and Great Lakes. They will range in size from 75 to 150 feet and may be in operation by late 1962.

At present marine service of spending estimates. Tenders likely will be called next fall for the work to be done in Canadian shipyards.

The department is undecided whether to throw the six open to all Canadian shipyards or call for bids on the two east-coast vessels in the Atlantic provinces, the Great Lakes vessels at the lakes and the west coast vessels on the west coast.

One west coast vessel is likely to be stationed off the mouth of the Fraser River covering Vancouver and Howe Sound.

Vessels are expected to cost between $330,000 and $400,000 each and will have a speed of up to 20 knots.

Guard Citizen Against Hand Of Government

OTTAWA (UPI)—The legal profession must always be on guard to see that the citizen is protected against the heavy hand of government and "ruthless and untrained administrative bodies," the second Commonwealth and Empire Law Conference was told yesterday.

Keynote speaker British legislatures, in the courts and Lord High Chancellor Viscount in the special tribunals.

Mr. McInnes said lawyers must always be on guard to see that justice is done or can be sought in cases where "square deal" for the individual rights of individuals. Their major task was to preserve the rights of individuals "from the hand of ruthless and untrained administrative bodies," he said.

WELCOME CEREMONY

The 1,200 visitors for the week-long meeting, including 700 lawyers from most parts of the Commonwealth, were welcomed in the foyer of the Supreme Court of Canada by Justice Minister E. Davie Pulton and Supreme Court Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin.

In a written message to delegates, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said it was "well that lawyers from time to time re-examine the foundations of freedom and re-dedicate themselves to the maintenance of the traditions of justice and the rule of law, which, if accepted internationally, would usher in a world of peace."

INTERFERENCE
Lord Kilgour, Speaker of the House of Lords and head of the British judiciary, delivered the keynote speech at the Chateau Laurier.

He warned that government interference with private rights, although often necessary through administrative encroachments in the everyday life of the citizen, had made it more important than ever for lawyers to defend the rights of the individual in the

Bill of Sale Holds Up Water Line

Central Saanich council has agreed to spend no money to develop the municipal water system until the long-awaited bill of sale for the Elk Lake-Patricia Bay pipeline is received from Ottawa. Negotiations began last December.

Public works committee chairman W. F. Grafton received verbal assurance at Ottawa in August that the agreement had been signed. This week he asked council's permission to go ahead with the development.

START NOW

He said if the municipality is going to take advantage of the federal government's winter works program it must start planning immediately.

Coun. R. G. Lee suggested the committee work out the basic steps for the water system as long as it didn't cost the municipality money, "and press Ottawa for the sale agreement."

Plans for the water system include purchase of the federally-owned pipeline and building of a reservoir on Mount Newton.

Bishop's Ouster Could Backfire

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—The sudden deportation of the Anglican bishop of Johannesburg, Rt. Rev. Ambrose Reeves, has raised a storm that may have great political repercussions in this racially troubled nation.

The bishop was hustled aboard a plane Monday less than 48 hours after he returned from England.

English-speaking South Africans make up about one-third of the white population. The English-language press, which opposes Verwoerd's plan for a republic, used Reeves' ouster to lash anew at the government.

Said the Johannesburg Star: "It was the most striking example that could be provided of the contempt in which this government holds English-speaking South Africans."

FEARED ARREST

He had left in April at the height of the racial crisis because he feared arrest.

Prime Minister Verwoerd's government has set Oct. 5 as the date for a referendum on the question of converting South Africa from a constitutional monarchy under the British Crown into a republic.

Some observers in the anti-Republic camp think the Reeves issue may bring defeat to Verwoerd's proposal because it has angered many English-speaking South Africans—just the people to whom Verwoerd's Afrikaner-dominated party has been appealing for votes with a "white unity" slogan.

Although many English-speaking South Africans do not like the bishop on his way of doing things, they have been affronted by the way he was allowed to return and then deported without legal advice or a court hearing.

NO HEARING
The National government said Reeves, a British subject was deported because of the tone in which he criticized racial segregation.

Vancouver To Lose Chinatown?

VANCOUVER (CP)—A spokesman for Vancouver's large Chinese community says the city's $100,000,000 slum-clearance program will mean the end of Chinatown, which contains the third largest Chinese community in North America.

Foon Sien, former president of the Chinese Benevolent Association, said the community wasn't opposed to the plan as a whole, "we just don't want it to take in all of Chinatown. It would mean the end of Chinatown except for the stores."

First stage is scheduled to begin next spring.

Plumbing Out

Plumbers Out
A dispute over outdoor privies has resulted in a walk-out of 100 plumbers and steam fitters on a construction project near this northern British Columbia community and likely will have to be argued out in court.

PORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)—

Just before Khrushchev's U.S. tour a year ago, the Soviets hit the moon with a rocket.

Just what Khrushchev had up his sleeve this time provoked a wide range of guesses. There was speculation it might be an attempt to launch a man into space and bring him back or it could be a new long-range missile experiment.

The navy said three ships, electronically equipped and carrying helicopters, were moving across the central Pacific toward the area where the Russians fired intercontinental missiles earlier, this year.

In addition, the navy said, a tanker with a helicopter and electronic gear, accompanied by a tug, had been spotted in the north-central Atlantic.

The Russian vessels in the Pacific were described as "ships used to monitor previous shots" in that ocean.

Red Radar Ships Hint at Space Feat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Presence of missile-tracking Soviet ships in both the Atlantic and Pacific aroused speculation Wednesday that Russia may be planning a new space feat to lend a dramatic backdrop to Nikita Khrushchev's UN debut next week.

The navy announced that the Russian ships, bristling with electronic gear, have been deployed in both oceans. The assumption that a Soviet space exploit might be in the offing was based on past Russian practices.

New Party in Action

OTTAWA (CP)—CCF candidates, who are also hailing CCF gains in Monday's British Columbia election, are running under a New Party banner, a New Party spokesman said Tuesday.

Stanley Knowles, chairman of the national committee for the new left-of-centre political party, said the decision on the precise banner, under which the local constituency groups election.

"It is very encouraging for the New Party to have the CCF gain as much as it did in seats and in the popular vote," he said. "It proves the desirability of having a clear issue between a party of private enterprise and a party of the democratic left."

Immediate Prospects Bleak

Executives, Players Quit City's Lacrosse Club

By JIM TAYLOR

There is a bleak and forbidding look to the future of Victoria's senior lacrosse club.

At the moment the club is without a president, manager or coach, and only five directors are left to undertake the monumental rebuilding task ahead if Victoria is to become a power again in the Inter-City Lacrosse League.

President Joe Mitchell, manager Ralph Baker, and directors John Blackstock, Bob Moffett, Art Ousman, Noel Morgan, Dave Gray and

Will Wilson handed in their resignations at the club's first meeting. Many had indicated at the start of last season it would be their final term.

That leaves directors Whitey Severson, Frank Pomeroy, George McWilliams, Austin Goward and Hor McNeill, along with secretary-treasurer Len McDonald, to carry the load. They face a situation in which Shamrocks (as they are still called by most fans) are short on executive players and, judging from attendance, fans as well.

"We've got some names to be considered and contacted to see if they will serve as directors," Severson said last night. "When we get them, we'll elect a new president and start working on rebuilding the club on the ground up, there's no question of it."

Several names have been bandied about as possible successors to coach Norm Baker, who was suspended for one year for hitting a referee and later carried out his earlier announced plan to resign. George "Porky" Andrews, basketball coach and physical director at Victoria High School, is the most likely choice but Severson indicated others are also being considered. Referee Earl McDonald of the Inter-City Lacrosse League is also reported interested.

Whoever gets the job will have his work cut out for him. Vics, who finished last in the 1960 season, are going to lose several players who will be hard to replace.

Severson, the all-time league point champion, says he will definitely call it quits. Al Gill, who shared high-scoring honors with Severson, had intended to quit but will likely remain another season to help out the club. Veteran Jackie Northup and Gordie Johnston don't plan to play again.

These losses were expected. It's the unexpected ones that really hurt at the moment. Ron Jay, top goal-scorer and the most improved player on the club, has accepted a job in eastern Canada and may not return for another season. Bob McKee is being transferred east and will not be back. Tom English and Stu Smith may have to spend a summer away from home in pursuit of their studies, and Jack Wilson will again miss most of the season while attending University of Denver.

These are losses that leave gaping holes in a club that needed improvements even when everybody was playing last season.

That leaves goalie Fred Wooster, referee of the year for Vics, defenceman Norm Kowalsky and Paul Parnell, along with Tom Bruce, Ross Roskamp and Lew Landess. If they decide to turn out again, and forwards—Gill, Jim Mc-Neill, Ed Kowalsky and Tom Collect.

Doug Flynn, John Hanson, Billy Gray, Bill Russell and Dave Nelson all showed promise but didn't play more than two or three games each and will still be classified as rookies.

They are unknown quantities, but it is to players like these on junior Shamrocks and the juvenile and senior teams that Vics must look to rebuild. It was here they put together the 1950 Shamrock club that was the beginning of Victoria's lacrosse power, and it is here they must turn again.

Nanaimo Two Down

Eastern Club Forgets Role

PORT CREDIT—Gleefully ignoring the fact that western Canada lacrosse is supposed to be superior to the eastern brand, Port Credit Sailors brawled their way past Nanaimo, 12-11, here last night to take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven Mann Cup Canadian final series.

In the past three years the eastern teams hadn't won a game in the Mann Cup. But the Sailors won, 10-9, on Monday and again last night, beating Nanaimo at its own brawling tactics in the process.

The game was a battle from the opening whistle, and Nanaimo was hurt most in the 14 penalties handed out. Tom McVie got a 10-minute misconduct in the second quarter and Skip MacKay received a minor for slashing, a misconduct for arguing about it, and a match misconduct for slamming the penalty box gate. It was not known whether or not he will be allowed to play in Friday's third game.

MacKay was booed unmercifully.

Argonauts Grounded Ti-Cats Get Rolling

Toronto Argonauts and Hamilton Tiger-Cats had five-game streaks broken last night in appendix, quarterbacked the Big Four play, the former whole game to lead the losing for the first time this season and the defending champions finally getting their first win to get back into the playoff picture.

Fine quarterbacking by rookie Ron Lancaster and the Argos made only 13 yards rushing with Rote again banking on his aerial circus. At Montreal, Tiger-Cats took 7-0 and 10-7 leads but trailed starting the fourth quarter by 10-18 and by 17-21 with less than four minutes left.

There, McDougall ripped off a 17-yard run for a touchdown which put Ti-Cats ahead by 23-21.

Alouettes weren't through by any means. Sam Etchevery passed them from his own 35-yard line to the Hamilton 30 before Ti-Cats stopped the march. Bill Bewley was called in to try a 38-yard field goal. His kick hit a post and Hamilton conceded the single point at 14-10, running put the clock in three plays.

Don Clark was the Montreal star, picking up 110 of the Alouettes' 163 rushing yards. Etchevery completed 14 of 20 passes for 132 yards.

For Ti-Cats it was McDougall carrying for 108 yards and Don Clark's 17-yard run for 17 passes for 131 yards.

But Argos didn't bow without putting up a scrap. After dropping behind, 14-0, in the first quarter, they got to 12-15 at 10 seconds of the last quarter and looked as they might pull it out.

Rote, who had thrown 15 touchdown passes in the first five games, was reasonably well checked as Riders put a blanket defence on his receivers. They double-teamed speedy Dave Mann so effectively that he failed to break loose for the first time this season.

However, Rote did account for 256 yards in completing 18 of 34 throws. Alf and Boyd Carter and Bill Strubling for his club's only touchdowns.

Jack Nicklaus on Sidelines, Coe, Chapman Ousted, Too

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chuck Lewis, skinny 19-year-old son of a golf pro, upset defending champion Jack Nicklaus and former champion Charlie Coe and Dick Chapman also were eliminated Wednesday as a youth-dominated storm of surprises hit the third and fourth rounds of the U.S. amateur golf championship.

Lewis, so busy working in his spare time that he didn't have time to go out for his college golf team, routed Nicklaus 5 and 3 in an afternoon fourth round shocker after building a 4-1 lead in the first nine holes. Coe, two-time champion who lost to Nicklaus in last year's final, lost in the morning round to 24-year-old John Farquhar of Amarillo, Texas, 2 up. Chapman, the 1940 champ from Oosterville, Mass., lost a third round duel to 29-year-old Bill Harvey of Greensboro, N.C., 3 and 2.

The smashing upset of the 20-year-old defending champion who'll soon start his junior year at Ohio State, plus the third-round ousters of Chapman and Coe, left veteran Harvie Ward of San Francisco the only former champion in the last 16.

Ward, catching fire on the back nine in both matches, whipped Frank Arasin of Shamokin, Pa., 4 and 2, and Dick Sucher of Thiensville, Wis., 3 and 2 in gaining the fifth round.

He, Lewis, and 14 others make up the surviving field which will move into another double round today to trim the list to four for the 36-hole semi-finals Friday. The finals, also over 36 holes, are scheduled Saturday.

Other qualifiers for the fifth round include Fred Paine, 34, of Oakmont, Pa.; Harry Root of Tampa, Fla.; Bob Gardner, Elmford, N.Y.; Bert Burdick, Baton Rouge, La.; Steve Spray, Indianapolis, Iowa; Claude Wild, Bethesda, Md.; Carl Lohren, Norbeck, Md.; John Geunther, Hershey, Pa.; Phil Brownlee, Scarborough, Ont.; Fred Pane, Oakmont, Pa.; and Gene Andrews, Whittier, Calif.

Brownlee, 19, beat Bob Lowry of Huntsville, Ala., 5 and 4 to advance to the fifth round. Andrews, 47, beat Bill Farish of Pebble Beach, Calif., 2 and 1 in the fourth round.

World Relay Record Shattered Twice

LONDON (CP)—Both the British Empire and United States teams broke the world record for the two-mile relay Wednesday.

The British Empire team won the race, but the U.S. team gets the credit for the record.

Track officials said the relay was won by the U.S. team in 7 minutes, 19.4 seconds.

The listed world mark is 7:20 by UCLA in May, 1958.

Wilma Rudolph of Tennessee State, who scampers to three miles in 16:10, won the 100-yard dash in 16.6 seconds.

Herb Elliott, Australia's 400-yard runner, was clocked in 3:58.6. He ran in a steady downpour.

Yankee-Bird Showdown Starts with Teams Tied

Things are getting hotter by the day in the sizzling American League pennant hunt, and Baltimore Orioles move into Yankee Stadium tomorrow to open a crucial four-game series in a virtual tie for the lead with the New York Yankees.

A perfect stage for the series was set up yesterday when the Orioles scrambled to an 11-10 win over Detroit Tigers while Baltimore used eight pitchers, including three in each of the seventh and ninth innings, in its squeaker over the Tigers. Orioles blew 5-0 and 8-6 leads before making it with three runs in the ninth inning on a two-run triple by Brooks Robinson and a run-scoring single by Ron Hansen. Charlie Maxwell hit a Detroit home run in the bottom of the ninth as the Tigers threatened, but Steve Barber finally got the side out.

Chuck Estrada like Robinson and Hanson former stars for Vancouver Mounties, got credit for the win. It was his 17th in 26 decisions and left him with the best chance of any pitcher in his league for a 20-game season.

Art Dillmar of the Yankees and Ray Herbert of the Athletics fought it out at Kansas City until Carey, traded to the Athletics in mid-season for Bob Cerv, led off the ninth inning with his 12th home run.

Catcher Earl Battey, who has been plaguing his former teammates after being used in the trade which brought Roy Sievers, got all the runs needed to beat the White Sox with a two-run homer in the second inning. Rookie southpaw Jack Kralick took from there for eighth inning as the Redbirds climbed to within five and a half games and left themselves only five games out on the losing side.

A pair of four-run innings and steady pitching by Joey Jay carried the Braves to a 10-2 romp over Chicago Cubs. The Milwaukee club is a game behind St. Louis but with a seven-game deficit on the losing side, has to practically sweep the two three-game series left with Pittsburgh to rate a pennant chance.

Over in the National League there were sudden thoughts that the Pittsburgh Pirates might not yet be home free although their lead is substantial enough for the short time remaining.

Minus their spark-plug and top average hitter, shortstop Dick Groat, the Pirates could slip back in a schedule which forces them to play the still-threatening Milwaukee Braves six times. Groat was missed again yesterday as Los Angeles Dodgers rapped the league leaders, 5-2, beating 19-game winner Vern Law.

Meanwhile, the third-place Braves and the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals didn't miss the chance to close in.

On another streak, the Cards made it eight wins in their last 10 games with a 6-4 conquest of Cincinnati Reds. Daryl Spencer's two-run homer in the eighth inning was the difference as the Redbirds climbed to within five and a half games and left themselves only five games out on the losing side.

More than 3,000,000 campers and day use visitors took advantage of British Columbia's provincial parks this summer.

That is double the 1955 park use and is bang on a prediction made by a parks branch statistician in 1955. The same official predicts park use will be doubled again in the next 10 years to 6,000,000, or better, users in 1970.

Camper days in B.C. boomed again this year—up 40 per cent, to about 700,000 camper days. There were 2,500,000 day visits.

And the season is not over yet. Provincial park crews provide full park service until the end of September, but last year there were trailer campers in some parks on Christmas Day.

Vancouver Island parks operated all summer at near capacity, as they have done for the last two or three years, so statistics do not show as striking an increase as in other areas—but use is considerably up.

Most popular Island park is at Miracle Beach where there is near maximum use every year. There were 42,768 campers there this year, compared to 42,136 last year.

Next most popular park was at Goldstream where there were 30,264 campers this year, compared with 24,332 last year.

Englishman River Falls Park had 17,628 campers this year and 11,800 last year. Little Qualicum Falls had 22,468 campers, up from 21,812, and Ivy Green had 11,188, slightly down from 11,268 last year.

Only other park that was down was McDonald Park at Sidney where the highways department took 15 sites away to build the Swartz Bay ferry road. Even at that its use was down only about three parties a day, to 8,104 campers, from 8,792 last year.

No figures are available for the new 50-unit Bamerton Park, which was full nearly all summer.

Total number of campers in Vancouver Island parks, excluding Bamerton, Stamp and Quinsam parks, was 132,472, compared with 120,140.

At beach parks like Miracle and Bamerton campers stay an average of seven or eight days. At the other scenic parks the average stay is three days.

Up to the end of June this summer, attendance was down because of bad weather. Then in July there was an explosion in camping use, with a 12½ per cent camping increase in July and an 18 per cent camping increase in August in Island parks.

Bulb Farmer Seeking First Triple Crown

Al Smith, the easy-going Saanich bulb farmer who has been driving stock cars for less than four years, will be out to make history at Western Speedway Saturday night.

Already the winner of the Roy White Memorial Trophy and the Gold Cup, Smith can score an unprecedented sweep of Vancouver Island's three major racing trophies by winning the gruelling Island championship Saturday night. No one, as yet, has won the "triple crown" in the same season.

The 27-year-old Smith won't find it easy. In addition to facing a full field of challengers from Nanaimo and Victoria, Easy Al must also count on a top-notch performance from his car. Saturday's title run is a 50-lap affair the longest race of the season.

But Smith's sweep chances don't stop at the end of the title race. He's an odds-on favorite to win his first point championship and also the most popular driver poll. Smith leads in both the point department—based on seasonal performance—and the popularity poll in voting conducted among the fans.

Smith's closest rival for the points title is Bob Mawle (also seeking his first driver's crown) while Dick Varley, the track's most popular driver in the two previous seasons, is close behind Al in the balloting by fans.

Saturday's program, which opens with time trials at 7.30, is also expected to mark the end of stock cars as they are known today.

Ted Mackenzie, president of the Vancouver Island Track Racing Association, announced this week that the stock car club has approved overhead valve motors in the race cars.

Overheads had been banned from local cars until VITRA approved the change this week. Mackenzie said the change will provide "better and faster cars," therefore better racing.

His wife Irene, 33, mother of three children, said: "Thank heaven that lot is coming off him at last."

Berlin Squeeze Suits Nikita

BERLIN (AP) — The squeeze on Berlin tightened yesterday as the Soviet ship Baltika, with Nikita Khrushchev aboard, sailed closer to New York.

Western officials speculated that Khrushchev would like to have the Berlin situation boiling when he appears before the UN General Assembly soon after its opening session next Tuesday.

Any doubts whether the current harassing of West German travel has Moscow's approval were removed Tuesday night by the Soviet command in East Berlin. Maj. Gen. Nikolai F. Zakharov, He backed up the Communist East German regime saying it was acting within "constitutional rights" the Russians gave it five years ago. Zakharov rejected an Allied protest of Aug. 31 against the first of the series of jets at sovereign East German state free movement delivered by the East Germans during the last two weeks.

Zakharov turned down the Western argument that four-power control still applies to the whole city. The East said, he said, is part of the through East Germany to eastern countries, it said.

The Communist regime announced Tuesday night it would no longer recognize the West German passports issued to gushed the West Berliners. Instead visas from the West Germans, making them appear stateless, citizenship cards for travel.

Moving Up

"Second, this time," said Frank Greive, third in the vote as Saanich Liberal candidate Monday. "This time was result of his special canvass for Community Chest. One of Chartered Life Underwriters canvassing firms, his objective, McCall Brothers, was second to go over to. First was MacDonalds Consolidated, third was Yorkshire Corporation. Average employee donation so far is $16.

Red Hand 'Obvious'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Herter said yesterday that Russia obviously played a hand in the "very serious" East German travel restrictions on Berlin.

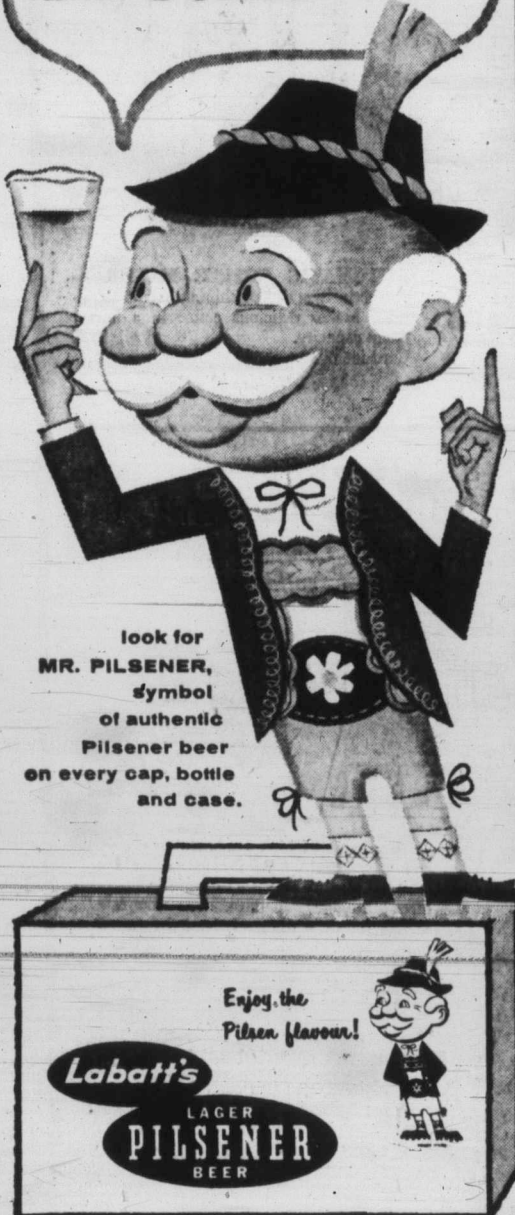

In Bonn, a West German government spokesman said the Allies were considering a trade embargo against the East Germans.

TV Sales Go Down

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians are buying fewer television sets, radios and record players this year than a year ago, the bureau of statistics said yesterday.

In the first seven months this year sales of radios dropped 9.5 per cent to 353,171 units from 390,394 in the same 1959 period. Sales of TV sets fell 18.9 per cent to 156,169 units from 192,619. Sale of record players declined 6.3 per cent to 74,139 units from 79,107.

Religion

Kennedy Furore Goes On

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Daniel Poling, a Baptist minister and editor of The Christian Herald, a non-denominational paper, says he believes John Kennedy would do his best as president to rise above religious dogma. But he added that a Roman Catholic chief executive would be under terrific pressure from the Vatican.

In Philadelphia, The Inquirer announced it is dropping a weekly column by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale because of "his approach to the so-called religious issue in this political campaign."

Dr. Peale, a New York writer and minister, last week headed a group of Protestant ministers and laymen who questioned whether a Roman Catholic president would be able to separate church and state in the performance of his duties.

Ceremony at Gordon Head

First Use of New Campus

Today Historic for University

A history-making year for Victoria University begins at 10 a.m. today with official opening ceremonies for the fall term held for the first time on the Gordon Head campus.

Close to 1,000 students of the predicted 1,400 enrolment are expected to attend the event, which has overflowed the capacity of the cramped auditorium on the Lansdowne campus and made it necessary to shift into the university's newly renovated auditorium-gymnasium.

The opening ceremonies will start with an academic procession including many of the university's 80-member faculty, headed by Judge J. B. Clearhue, chairman of Victoria University Council.

Prof. Robert Wallace, acting principal, will be chairman of the assembly. An address of welcome to new students and those returning for another year will be given by Judge Clearhue. Prof. Hugh Farquhar, executive assistant to the principal, will talk to students on regulations.

The meeting will be handed over to student council president John Anderson after the faculty has taken its leave.

Enrolment at Victoria University, in progress this week, is already close to the expected 1,400, a spokesman said yesterday. This is an increase of more than 300 over last year. Next spring the first graduating class in the history of the university will receive diplomas.

Man Injured
In Pit Fall

A Central Saanich man was injured yesterday when he fell some 30 feet from the bank of a gravel pit on Keating Crossroad.

In fairly good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital is Wilfred Butler, Jr., 32, 6140 Central Saanich Road.

Police said the man was washing out a cement truck when he apparently lost his balance and fell down the 30-foot hole.

Tuesday Afternoon

Partial Eclipse Visible Here

The sun will be partially eclipsed by the moon for two hours starting shortly after 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. It will be seen in western North America only.

Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain, yesterday issued a warning to those who will be watching the partial eclipse here.

He said binoculars or telescopes should not be used to view the eclipse, and warned that if this rule is disregarded severe eye damage could result.

Since the sun is large, Dr. Petrie said, it is easy to look at it with the unaided eye, protected by smoked glass or heavily exposed photographic film.

The observatory at White Lake near Pentiction will train its radio-telescope on the sun to measure the reduction of signals emanating from the sun as the moon passes before it. From this the scientists hope to determine size of a number of sunspots on the solar surface. No observations are planned at the Saanich observatory.

Several
Flights
Cancelled

Fog which caused some disruption of sea and air transportation here yesterday rolled in heavily over Patricia Bay airport last night forcing cancellation of several flights and diversion of two plane loads of passengers to Comox.

Fog is expected to persist in the early morning, but a Trans-Canada Air Lines spokesman said at press time no cancellation of early morning flights to the mainland had been ordered so far. Forecast is "abnormal" until 9 a.m.

SOCKED IN

Last night, the flight leaving Patricia Bay for Vancouver at 7:15 p.m. took off on schedule but found Vancouver International Airport completely socked in. It returned to Patricia Bay, only to find the same fog conditions existed here, and was finally diverted to land at Comox.

Also diverted to the up-Island RCAF field, which except on rare occasions enjoys freedom from fog, was the TCA flight leaving Seattle at 7:29 p.m. for Victoria.

BY BUS

TCA officials said arrangements were being made to bring Victoria passengers here in buses.

The fog earlier had caused minor delays in arrival of CPR ferries from Seattle and Vancouver and tied up the new B.C. government ferry Sidney for nearly half an hour on its first return trip from the mainland yesterday morning.

TRAPPED AIR

The fog is caused by a "surface inversion" in which cold, moist air is trapped under a blanket of warm air and aggravated by smoke from many slash fires now burning. There was little wind yesterday, but the weatherman said winds today will blow up to 15 miles an hour.

FERRY DIVERTED

Fog over the Strait of Georgia yesterday forced the CPR ferry from Vancouver to take the route around East Point instead of using Active Pass, a company spokesman said. The ship arrived here 20 minutes behind schedule.

The other CPR ferry bound for Victoria from Seattle was forced to slow down when she encountered heavy fog in Puget Sound but later made up most of the lost time. The ship arrived here eight minutes after her scheduled arrival time of 1 p.m.

LEAVE ON TIME

The ships departed for Vancouver and Seattle on schedule. A few clouds and fog patches disappearing in the early morning are forecast for Victoria. Forecast temperatures are 50 and 65.

Battle of Britain
Dinner Saturday

The Air Force Officers Association of Vancouver Island will hold its annual Battle of Britain dinner at 7 p.m. Saturday in the officers mess at the RCAF Urban Centre, Quadra.

Guest speaker will be Air Commodore G. G. Truscott, deputy commander, Pacific Maritime Command, who will talk on "The RCAF today."

The dinner will be followed by the annual wreath-laying ceremony of air force wings at the cenotaph.

Band Boys Back in Business

The technique was a little rusty, some of the sounds were really quite strange, but the spirit of the Victoria Boys' Band was still there as regular practices resumed this week after a two-month layoff. Getting enthusiastically back into the swing were trom-

They Like Old One

'Treasure Island' Slogan
For Birds, Jaycees Feel

The new slogan adopted by Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau is for the birds, immediate past president Peter Forward told Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

The new slogan describes Vancouver Island as Canada's Treasure Island, and includes a small figure of a pirate, labelled "Captain Discovery."

MANY YEARS

It was adopted by the bureau after William Hawkins was appointed commissioner of the bureau recently. For many years the slogan, coined by former commissioner George I. Warren, was "Follow the Birds to Victoria."

"The most important reason for changing was to satisfy some communities on Vancouver Island," Mr. Forward said. "Some people seem to feel that this slogan is more suitable."

MANY MEANS

"I firmly believe the slogan we have now (Follow the Birds to Victoria) lends itself to many means of promotion. It is known practically throughout North America at the present time. People know the slogan. To change it is to defeat the work that has been done over many years, particularly by George I. Warren."

The seagull motif which accompanies the old slogan is used prominently on Jaycee shirts and on the new Jaycee roster.

ON BILLBOARDS

Mr. Forward said billboards all along the Pacific coast, from California to the British Columbia border, are still carrying the old slogan.

"I think the people of Vancouver Island should know that Victoria is the tourist attraction on Vancouver Island," Mr. Forward said. He described the new slogan as "over-rated, pedantic and does not do the job that the old one does."

GANG OF PIRATES

Jack Urquhart also spoke against the new slogan. "I think the theme tends to say that on Vancouver Island we are just a gang of pirates," he commented.

The meeting voted to have the Jaycee tourist promotion committee study the matter, confer with the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and prepare a complete report and brief. Very few members voted against the motion.

After Defeats

Few Can Qualify
For MLA Pension

Few of the MLAs who lost their seats on Monday will qualify for the provincial parliamentary pension.

Members must have been 55 years of age and have served in three legislatures before they can obtain superannuation.

Neither of two cabinet ministers defeated Sept. 12 will immediately get pensions. Agriculture Minister Newton Steacy, defeated in North Vancouver, did not have long enough service and Labor Minister Lyle Wicks is only 51. Mr. Wicks' pension will be deferred until he reaches qualifying age.

George Gregory, Victoria Liberal who lost out in a Sacred sweep of the three-seat capital constituency, did not have long enough service, and four members of the last legislature who did not run this time are also ineligible. They are Hugh Shirreff, Skeena; Mel Bryan, North Vancouver; Gordon Gibson, Delta; Harold Roche, North Peace River. Tom Uphill, veteran Fernie MLA, will get about $150 a month under the plan and James Allan Reid, who failed to win re-election in Salmon Arm, will also qualify, but for a lesser amount.

Pensions are computed on a 10-year basis.

Cars Collide
Two Suffer
Slight Injuries

Two persons suffered minor injuries last night in a two-car collision at Cook and Fort. John E. Boyle, 27, of 2375 Rosario, and Mrs. Gertrude B. Buckler, 67, of 1015 Collinson, were being held at Royal Jubilee Hospital overnight for observation. Mrs. Buckler suffered minor lacerations. Police said a car driven by Ernest F. Marshall, 958 Victoria, in which Mr. Boyle was a passenger, collided with Mrs. Buckler's car in the intersection.

Century 21 Model

Larger Midway
In Jaycees' Plans

Negotiations for the 1961 Jaycee fair have already started—for a special scale model of the 1962 Seattle World Fair, Century 21, and for a new, expanded midway. Bob Montgomery, director of the fair, told a meeting of Jaycees last night that attempts are being made to have a special scale model of the Century 21 grounds and buildings exhibited, together with larger-scale models of some of the most striking structures.

MEASUREMENTS

The model of the site alone measures some 11 feet by eight feet, he said. "These models should be a big attraction to the people of Civic Club."

WHAT'S COOKING

By LOUISE MOORE

As the school doors swing open for another term, the time for filling the school lunch boxes is on us again.

PACK HEALTH INTO BOX

For the child to be alert in the classroom that mid-day meal should be packed with an eye to good nutrition and appetite appeal for youngsters respond readily to a lunch box that looks dainty and is filled with good things to eat.

Use plenty of waxed paper for wrapping each item separately and include a good supply of paper napkins that are colorful and pretty to add a festive air to the lunch box.

Pack the heavier foods at the bottom and the foods to be eaten first on top for convenience.

Fruit should be wrapped well in foil or waxed paper as the odor, especially of bananas may impart an odor to the entire contents of the box.

The sandwich is the basis of the school lunch and these won't become monotonous if both bread and fillings are varied. Use enriched, whole wheat, rye, French loaf, raisin, Boston brown bread, nut loaf, and once in a while scoop out part of the innards of small rolls and fill with a salad mixture or this filling may be sent along in tiny jars for the youngster to do his own fixing at lunch hour.

Do not put lettuce, tomatoes or mayonnaise in the sandwiches but send these along in small containers or wrap the greens in waxed paper.

GOOD NUTRITION

First include salad or fruit. Salad may include raw fruits, raw vegetables, meat, poultry, fish, beans, eggs, or nutmeats. Fresh fruit may be oranges.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: "Bitter 16" described how it felt to stand around at parties, laughing and pretending to have a good time. Her heart was really breaking because no fellow would ask her to dance.

Well, I'm a fellow 17, and there's a side to the story that hasn't been told yet. You always criticize guys for running after dolls with filled-out shapes. Do you know how it is with us not-so-handsome fellows? Well, let me tell you.

I'm not very tall and I guess you'd call me puny. I don't expect Sandra Dee to flip over me, but if these girls who feel so out of it would give us shy guys a little encouragement they wouldn't be so lonesome—and neither would we.

I've been turned down so many times I feel like an army blanket. Some girls would rather stand around feeling sorry for themselves than dance with an ordinary guy. —LAUGH CLOWN LAUGH.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter signed "Too Timid Maybe" should have been signed "Too Nervy for Sure."

Anyone who drops in uninvited and isn't offered refreshments within the first half-hour should take the hint and go home. It takes plenty of brass to stick around for three hours—with young children yet!

It figures, however, that the insensitive bore who would drop in without first calling to see if it's convenient would also gripe because nobody offered her or her kids something to eat.

"Too Timid Maybe" whined in a self-pitying tone, "This happens to me all the time." I'm not surprised. People who go places where they are not invited "all the time" rate just this sort of treatment.—IMPOSED ON, TOO.

Dear Ann: "Too Timid Maybe" has given me a perfect opportunity to speak out on a subject which has troubled me for a long time. Americans and food.

I am not yet a citizen here, so perhaps I should not criticize, but almost from the first day in your country I noticed Americans have a compulsion to eat and drink constantly when more than two people get together. Does the American feel he must fill his mouth with food in order to keep his foot out of it?

I sometimes have the impression you people offer food and drink as a substitute for ideas. When the conversation becomes dull, you are always ready to pass the potato chips and peanuts.

When guests come to my home I never serve them a bite of food unless they have been invited for dinner. In my opinion this is the mature approach to entertaining. Do you agree?—S.K.

Dear S.K.: No, I do not agree. The American host or hostess who offers his guests refreshments doesn't do so because he can't keep the conversation going.

"Breaking bread" together is a symbol of friendship and it goes back as far as Biblical times. Sharing food and drink is an expression of good fellowship.

You refer to "feeding the guests" with disdain (like feeding the monkeys) and suggest "that this is an American custom. I've been to your country (which shall be unnamed in the interests of international relations) and the "casual" snack at your informal cocktail parties could pass for dinner over here.

To learn the truth about teenage drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Dentist
Cleared

TORONTO (CP) — A coroner's jury has recommended that a dentist be cleared of charges for administering general anesthesia to a patient who died following an extraction of teeth.

Dr. Richards, chief anesthetist at Toronto Western Hospital, told the jury that he administered a general anesthetic for the operation.

Dr. Richards said he had four months' training during undergraduate studies. He said he would not give general anesthesia in an office if "more skilled specialists were available."

Tories in Trouble?

Political Storm Brews in U.K.

LONDON (CP) — Britons who now earn more than ever before are finding that they are forced to spend more and more to stay in the same place.

This is largely the result of the removal by the Conservative government three years ago of some of the stringent rental controls in an effort to restore the free interplay of market forces in housing.

The pinch Britons now feel as a result is precipitating a political storm over housing that will likely gain in intensity.

Tenants are banding together to fight landlords; the local governments of five London districts are demanding that the government act; Labor party spokesmen are attacking the government's housing policy.

Even a deputation of Conservative parliamentarians, representing high-populated urban areas, has called for legislation to protect tenants.

Housing Minister Henry Brooke's last word of advice before going on vacation was simple. He told tenants to form associations and hire expert help to bargain with landlords.

The crux of the problem is that there just aren't enough houses and apartments to meet the demand.

The 1957 Rent Act raised the rent on roughly 11,000,000 of the 16,000,000 homes in the British Isles. It also removed controls entirely from about 800,000 of the country's residences.

The present future is over the fate of tenants living in decontrolled houses and flats.

THREE YEARS

The 1957 legislation gave landlords the choice between receiving an immediate increase in rent by signing a three-year lease or waiting 15 months at the old rent before forcing the tenant to leave.

Because of the threat of political pressure, most of the landlords came to terms with their sitting tenants. Now these three-year leases have started to run out and landlords have started to seek sizable increases in rents.

HOUSING STUDY

In a study of housing, The Financial Times estimates that rents went up about 60 per cent immediately after the Rent Act became law. Increases now demanded range from about 25 to as much as 60 per cent.

A one-room flat which rented for $40 a month before the Rent Act was let at $60 under the three-year lease. Now landlords are asking anywhere from $80 to $120 for this type of accommodation.

MOVE FAR

These rents are forcing many Britons to move far from the city centre in their quest for less expensive accommodation.

"Rents have not yet found their level in London," says the financial newspaper. "There is no increase in the supply of rented property, since with the exception of luxury blocks, it is still only profitable to build to sell."

ALL PRESSING

"Affluence, shortage of land, building costs, the quirks of public demand, all these are pressing on the London housing situation."

"All that is certain is that the rents are going up."

Mine Sues

Steel Union

QUEBEC (CP) — A $5,200,000 suit launched by Gaspe Copper Mines Ltd., at Murdochville, Que., against the United Steel Workers of America for alleged damage and loss resulting from the 1957 strike of 1,000 workers is to be heard in Quebec Superior Court Sept. 26.

Robber Jailed

Four Years

EDMONTON (CP) — Michael Clifford Johnson, 27, was sentenced to four years in penitentiary Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery with violence in connection with the theft of more than $17,000 at the Provincial Highways Building Aug. 30.

Airliner Cartwheels, Burns 76 Escape Death by Seconds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seventy and was destroyed within minutes. Six persons left dangling upside-down in their seat belts. Six passengers were treated for minor burns in a nearby hospital and released. The Electra, coming in for a landing, flipped over on its back, skidded into a swamp and caught fire. A gust of wind caught the American Airlines flight from Boston as the plane was about to touch down on the end of a runway at LaGuardia airport, causing the landing gear to strike a seven-foot earthen dike protecting the runway. The airliner cartwheeled and slammed into the swamp on its back. It skidded 500 feet and burst into flames. The 76 passengers and six crewmen, hanging head-down from their seats, unfastened the safety belts, dropped to the ceiling of the plane and escaped through emergency hatches. Some fell head first. Emptying of the plane took only 80 seconds. Passengers and crew remained calm although the plane caught fire.

Fight Cancer With Drinkup

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Swig happily, beer drinkers — a British cancer specialist says. "I never saw a case of bladder cancer among beer drinking brewery workers."

It's not an endorsement for beer, but for drinking more fluids during the day. That includes plain water, too.

Dr. Donald McDonald of the University of Rochester quoted the London physician, Dr. David Wallace, in presenting a review on suspected causes and present treatments of bladder cancer.

Runaway Engine Blamed As Plane Hits Own Hangar

DALLAS (AP) — A four-killed and five others were in the rear of the hangar to the runway when a runway engine was blamed. The huge, airliner burst into flames but the plane was quickly extinguished. One crew member was killed. It was being taxied from the runway.

Giant Bombers Collide

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI) — One plane's tail smashed and two of its six engines damaged landed safely at Shannon Airport. Its three-man crew was uninjured. The bomber plunged into the ocean, presumably killing its crew of three.

Rise in Radiation Blamed on French Test, Not Russian

OTTAWA (CP)—On Feb. 23, 1960, at Whitehorse, Y.T., an increase in radioactivity in the air was recorded.

On Feb. 5 a similar observation was made at Vancouver and again at Ottawa March 29.

The assumption was that the increase, though recorded at only three of the 23 filter centres in Canada, was caused by the Feb. 13 French atomic bomb test in the Sahara.

Officials said Wednesday

chances are small that the increase was due to anything but the radioactive debris from the French nuclear test blown in an easterly direction more than three-quarters of the way around the world.

Authorities said, however, they are taking comfort from the fact that no abnormal radioactivity was recorded at Canadian stations in April, May or June.

This means that atomic debris from the smaller second French test April 1 did not reach this continent or, if it did, it was in insufficient quantity to be measured.

Officials said the daily Canadian samplings of the air have also shown that there have been no major secret nuclear tests in the Soviet Union, at least above ground.

Meanwhile, preparations have been nearly completed for Canadian radiation analysis of air, food, soil and water samples submitted by four countries which do not have the proper equipment to conduct such tests.

Names of the four countries have not yet been announced.

BY TERRY HAMMOND

The dew was still thick on the lush lawns of the legislative buildings yesterday when a jaunty Premier W. A. C. Bennett bounded out of his limousine and slipped into his office almost unnoticed.

To this Colonist reporter he looked more like a champion who had just finished a light training session than a political St. George who had held at bay the "dragon" of socialism.

BRUSHED ASIDE
He brushed aside a flurry of questions with a broad grin and said he wouldn't have much to say for about 10 days, "when the final decision of the people will be known."

"We've got to get back to work," he said, almost as though the 38-day election campaign which put him and his party firmly back in the driver's seat had been a mere frivolous distraction from more important affairs.

LOT TO DO
"We've got a lot of things to do," he added, as he vanished behind the polished oak door of his office.

Speculation that one of the first things the premier would do is fill the two cabinet vacancies brought about by the defeat of Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy and Labor and Commercial Transport Minister Lyle Wicks was discounted by a high government source.

NOT PERMANENT
It was indicated that the vacancies would not be filled on a permanent basis for some time, possibly not until shortly before the next session of the legislature.

In the meantime, the three vacant portfolios are expected to be temporarily allocated to the present 10 cabinet ministers who are sharing 15 portfolios.

Agriculture would probably

Big Ben Too Majestically Slow

LONDON (Reuters)—The sonorous tolling of Big Ben, the world's most famous clock, is too slow for the supersonic age.

Starting Sunday, the BBC has decided that only the first stroke of the clock will be broadcast at the start of its main evening news program.

During the Battle of Britain,

the tolling of Big Ben at the start of the BBC nightly broadcast was a symbol to the world that Britain was still fighting. Now it has been decided that the old clock's cracked, 13½-ton bell takes too long to toll the hour.

The BBC announcement said: "The world's most majestic clock is in its own majestic way among the slowest."

After all, the BBC pointed out, "when it has finished striking 10, the time has already advanced to almost three-quarters of a minute past the hour."

A protest over the abbreviated tolling of Big Ben over the BBC has been filed by the Big Ben Council, a group set up in 1940 for prayer and meditation while Big Ben tolls.

Renounce Atom War Head of Church Urges Canadians

EDMONTON (CP)—Canada should renounce nuclear war and refuse to participate in a nuclear war, Rt. Rev. Angus J. MacQueen, retiring moderator of the United Church of Canada, said Wednesday night.

There is nothing that could justify a nuclear war, he said in his farewell address as head of the largest Protestant communion in Canada. It claims more than 4,000,000 members and adherents.

NO DEFENCE

Dr. MacQueen, speaking to the 19th general council of the United Church, said the argument of self-defence cannot be supported because there is no possibility of defence in a nuclear war.

Dr. MacQueen, a London,

EDMONTON (CP)—Hugh A. McLeod of Winnipeg Wednesday night was elected moderator of the United Church of Canada.

ALTERNATIVES

Dr. MacQueen said Canada should continue to support the United Nations and should cooperate with all nations in an attempt to find an alternative to war—a political alternative, an economic alternative, a psychological alternative and a spiritual alternative.

"We have reached the point where war is the ultimate evil against God and humanity and ethics and the future and where indiscriminate and universal nuclear extermination is the worst possibility confronting us."

MONSTROUS

"We Christians must never be guilty of mute acceptance of such a monstrous possibility," he said.

Strike Vote Threatens For Railways

MONTREAL (CP)—The possibility of a strike vote among 118,000 Canadian non-operating railway employees was raised yesterday when the CPR and CNR rejected a conciliation board report which recommended a 14 cent-an-hour increase for the workers.

CNR President Donald Gordon and CPR President N. R. Crump set out the railway companies' stand in a letter to Labor Minister Starr Wednesday.

"... We must inform you that all of the recommendations contained in the report ... are unacceptable to the railways," the letter said.

U.S. Misses Space Catch

VANDENBERG BASE, Calif. (AP)—The United States failed Wednesday to make its second straight on-the-fly catch on a package from space.

The air force said a parachute-equipped capsule separated from the orbiting Discoverer XV satellite as planned but was not recovered by planes sent out to catch it in the air near Hawaii.

It was not announced where the capsule landed.

DAG HAMMARSKJÖLD ... appreciated

VALERIAN ZORIN ... failed to mention

Personal Attack On Hammarskjöld

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Soviet Russia Wednesday night attacked Dag Hammarskjöld as a tool of imperialistic designs in Africa and received a stinging rebuke from the UN secretary-general.

Minister Valerian Zorin unleashed his slashing attack on Hammarskjöld over UN actions in the Congo, the secretary-general, his voice almost breaking at times, declared that the African countries appreciated the work of the UN.

"It seems to me they deserve better than to be told they have been misled."

TO SAVE LIVES

Zorin had castigated him for recommending that some elements of the Congolese army be disarmed. But Zorin failed to mention, said Hammarskjöld, that the action was recommended to protect human life.

To Zorin's contention that UN forces in the Congo are dominated by NATO countries, Hammarskjöld said the 8,000 man force includes only 500 from NATO nations. That figure would have been cut by half had Poland contributed troops.

NO CASES

Hammarskjöld said he knew of no cases where UN troops had opposed the Congolese army as charged by Zorin. He appeared particularly hurt by the imperialistic references.

Zorin, in his 75-minute speech, attacked Hammarskjöld personally and rejected his plea that all aid to the Congo be channelled through the UN.

One long-time UN official said it was the harshest attack ever made on Hammarskjöld.

REDS OUT?

As Zorin neared the end of his speech, there was a stir in the gallery as press dispatches were passed around stating Joseph Mobutu had apparently ordered the Soviet embassy in Leopoldville placed under guard as a preliminary to expelling the Russians from the Congo.

Army Takes Control

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—The chief of staff of the Congolese army said Wednesday night the army is taking control to save the Congo.

Col. Joseph Mobutu said the army will rule until the struggle for power is settled between President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba.

KASAVUBU MAN

In the shifting fortunes of the Congo, Mobutu has been a Kasavubu man, Mobutu asked full United Nations support. He also appealed for the co-operation of Congolese and foreign technicians.

Mobutu said it is still not clear what the positions of Kasavubu and Lumumba would be, but he called for the army to carry on and save the nation. His announcement was made in a brief radio broadcast.

FLEEING?

There were reports that Lumumba was fleeing to his home town of Stanleyville, but these could not be confirmed.

The announcement by Mobutu came shortly after Joseph Ileo, who was named premier by Kasavubu to replace Lumumba, claimed the army was swinging its support to the president.

Get in First Punch Eisenhower's Plan

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Eisenhower will attempt to seize the initiative from Soviet Premier Khrushchev at the United Nations General Assembly by appearing there Sept. 22 to make specific proposals which, informants said, may include a call for immediate resumption of East-West disarmament negotiations.

Eisenhower's journey to the UN, announced by the White House Wednesday, has been anticipated for some time.

Government sources said Eisenhower does not plan to offer "any new or additional disarmament suggestions, standing firmly on the Western position of negotiating only step-by-step disarmament accompanied by iron-clad measures for inspection and control."

The plan is to have Eisenhower make a quick one-day appearance and deliver his lives in B.C. during the first seven months of this year and a 1960's total may be only slightly lower than the 1959 accidental death toll of 1,030.

Pollution 'Serious Hazard'

NORTH COWICHAN Dr. C. J. G. Mackenzie, in a letter to council yesterday, described surface pollution in two areas here as "representing a serious health hazard."

He also said that since becoming head of the Central Vancouver Island Health Unit (Malahat to Fanny Bay): "I have been alarmed by the continued high level of enteric infection which I have observed in many areas of the health unit."

COMMITTEE SET UP

A special three-man committee was set up to confer with the doctor. Reeve Donald Morton said council has known there would eventually be a problem.

Dr. Mackenzie listed the areas as the Sherman Road area, and in the vicinity of St. Louis, Dingwall and Alexander area. Both are just outside Duncan.

INADEQUATE

"In all but the driest weather pollution is evident and represents a serious health hazard," the doctor's letter said. "It is my opinion that, in many cases, inadequate sewage disposal such as I have mentioned in North Cowichan is perpetrating this dangerous health situation. Therefore I am anxious to eliminate all obvious malfunctioning sewer systems as soon as possible."

SEWER BEST

The practical solution, he said, would be a sewer system collection and disposal unit, "the most satisfactory from the point of view of health."

Alternative would be to force property owners to make expensive repairs to their systems, mostly backyard septic tanks.

SAME PROPOSAL

Reeve Donald Morton will head the committee, aided by Councillors William Bowles and Tony Staples.

Dr. Mackenzie said his recommendation is the same as one suggested to council in October, 1956, by a consulting engineer.

Ceremony at Gordon Head

First Use of New Campus

Today Historic for University

A history-making year for Victoria University begins at 10 a.m. today with official opening ceremonies for the fall term held for the first time on the Gordon Head campus.

Closely to 1,400 students of the predicted 1,400 enrolment are expected to attend the event, which has overflowed the capacity of the cramped auditorium on the Lansdowne campus and made it necessary to shift into the university's newly renovated auditorium-gymnasium.

The opening ceremonies will start with an academic procession including many of the university's 80-member faculty, headed by Judge J. B. Clearhue, chairman of Victoria University Council.

Prof. Robert Wallace, acting principal, will be chairman of the assembly. An address of welcome to new students and those returning for another year will be given by Judge Clearhue. Prof. Hugh Farquhar, executive assistant to the principal, will talk to students on regulations.

The meeting will be handed over to student council president John Anderson after the faculty has taken its leave.

Enrolment at Victoria University, in progress this week, is already close to the expected 1,400, a spokesman said yesterday. This is an increase of more than 300 over last year. Next spring the first graduating class in the history of the university will receive diplomas.

A Central Saanich man was injured yesterday when he fell some 30 feet from the bank of a gravel pit on Keating Crossroad.

Tuesday Afternoon

Partial Eclipse Visible Here

The sun will be partially eclipsed by the moon for two hours starting shortly after 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. It will be seen in western North America only.

Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain, yesterday issued a warning to those who will be watching the partial eclipse here.

He said binoculars or telescopes should not be used to view the eclipse, and warned that if this rule is disregarded severe eye damage could result.

Since the sun is large, Dr. Petrie said, it is easy to look at it with the unaided eye protected by smoked glass or heavily exposed photographic film.

The observatory at White Lake near Penticton will train its radio-telescope on the sun to measure the reduction of signals emanating from the sun as the moon passes before it. From this the scientists hope to determine size of a number of sunspots on the solar surface. No observations are planned at the Saanich observatory.

Several
Flights
Cancelled

Fog which caused some disruption of sea and air transportation here yesterday rolled in heavily over Patricia Bay airport last night forcing cancellation of several flights and diversion of two plane-loads of passengers to Comox.

Fog is expected to persist in the early morning, but a Trans-Canada Air Lines spokesman said at press time no cancellation of early morning flights to the mainland had been ordered so far. Forecast is "abnormal" until 9 a.m.

SOCKED IN

Last night, the flight leaving Patricia Bay for Vancouver at 7:15 p.m. took off on schedule but found Vancouver International Airport completely socked in. It returned to Patricia Bay, only to find the same fog conditions existed here, and was finally diverted to land at Comox.

Also diverted to the up-Island RCAF field, which except on rare occasions enjoys freedom from fog, was the TCA flight leaving Seattle at 7:29 p.m. for Victoria.

BY BUS

TCA officials said arrangements were being made to bring Victoria passengers here in buses.

The fog earlier had caused minor delays in arrival of CPR ferries from Seattle and Vancouver and tied up the new B.C. government ferry Sidney for nearly half an hour on its first return trip from the mainland yesterday morning.

TRAPPED AIR

The fog is caused by a "surface inversion" in which cold, moist air is trapped under a blanket of warm air and aggravated by smoke from many slash fires now burning. There was little wind yesterday, but the weatherman said winds today will blow up to 15 miles an hour.

FERRY DIVERTED

Fog over the Strait of Georgia yesterday forced the CPR ferry from Vancouver to take the route around East Point instead of using Active Pass, a company spokesman said. The ship arrived here 20 minutes behind schedule.

The other CPR ferry bound for Victoria from Seattle was forced to slow down when she encountered heavy fog in Puget Sound but later made up most of the lost time. The ship arrived here eight minutes after her scheduled arrival time of 1 p.m.

LEAVE ON TIME

The ships departed for Vancouver and Seattle on schedule. A few clouds and fog patches disappearing in the early morning are forecast for Victoria. Forecast temperatures are 50 and 63.

Jury Frees Nanaimo Man
Of Public Mischief Charge

NANAIMO — A jury Wednesday acquitted Johannes Gudmundson of a charge of public mischief in connection with a statement he made to police alleging that three youths had robbed him of $80.

Two of the youths accused by Gudmundson denied the allegations in evidence at the B.C. Supreme Court trial. Gudmundson said they robbed him after driving him around Nanaimo.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty after 10 minutes' deliberation. Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane commended the jurors and said the case was "a most strange and unusual one."

Pair Fined

LAKE COWICHAN—Claude Kramer and Delmar Tjensvold, co-owners of a shingle mill here, were fined on two counts in court yesterday.

Magistrate G. L. Anderson imposed a $30 fine for driving a vehicle without the proper lighting system, and $20 for hiring a driver without a chauffeur's licence.

The driver, Charles Chofield of Lake Cowichan, was fined $10 for driving a truck without a chauffeur's licence.

David Hargrave of Lake Cowichan was fined $10 for parking in a crosswalk.

Works Planned

DUNCAN—Preparations for this year's winter works programs have started, said Harold Whitfield, secretary of a committee here.

A meeting has been called for Sept. 29, he said. At that meeting it is believed the city and municipality will present reports on their proposed work to be done.

He said the time limit under which the federal government shares in labor costs had been made longer by moving the starting date for work from Dec. 1 to Oct. 15 this year.

School Site

PORT ALBERNI—A price of $2,000 an acre has been placed by council on a tract of just over eight acres which the District 70 school board wants as the site of a junior high school.

Ald. Fred Weaver reported that the price had been agreed upon by the finance committee and will include sewer and water service to the property line.

Mayor Loran Jordan commented that he considered it a fair price for the acreage at China Creek Road and 18th Avenue. "We're not giving it away, but it is less than we could have received for it if We had subdivided it and sold it for lots."

In Alberni, council received a letter from the school board asking for a meeting Sept. 15 to discuss a possible site for another new junior high school.

Thugersen Rites

DUNCAN—Mrs. Kirsten Marie Thugersen, 86, a resident here for 49 years, will be buried Saturday. She died Tuesday in hospital.

Born in Denmark, she came to Canada in 1898 to Winnipeg where she was married. Mrs. Thugersen was an active member of the Women's Missionary Society and United Church.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday in the United Church, Jubilee Street. Burial will be in the family plot, Mountain View Cemetery, Somenos.

Fee Boost

NORTH COWICHAN—A Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals request to increase dog licence fees met with favorable comment at a council meeting yesterday.

Coun. Reg. Clegg said he thought it was a "fair request" considering the work being done.

SPCA officials suggested the fee for male dogs could be $3 instead of $2 and $5 instead of $3 for females. Coun. Clegg is to investigate and bring back a recommendation to council.

Tag Day Set

CHEMAINUS—Pythian Sisters will hold a tag day here next Wednesday for the cerebral palsy fund. Members are also making plans for a bazaar next month.

Water Bylaw

PORT ALBERNI—A money by-law may be placed before electors of Port Alberni in December with a view to accelerating plans for improving the city's water system.

At council meeting Monday, authority was given the water committee to obtain figures from Associated Engineering Services Ltd. on a project which would include a 24-inch supply line from the Cowichan reservoir in the south end of the city to Bainbridge Lake.

turn-off, full development of Bainbridge Lake, including dam and chlorinator; a high pressure line from Cowichan Reservoir to either China Creek Road or through to Wallace Street; the cost of additional storage in the south-east section of the city.

Mayor Loran Jordan remarked that, with the clearing up of the city's sewer problems, council could now concentrate on water problems. He said the committee would submit figures with the idea that the question could be put to the voters at the civic elections.

Council also approved in principle preliminary plans for a railway spur proposed by MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. The spur would cross the new Stamp Avenue, south of Rogers Street, and council made the proviso that a signal light warning system must be installed at no cost to the city.

Fraser Funeral

DUNCAN—Funeral services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Evelyn Mary Hamilton Fraser, 50, who died Monday in King's Daughters' Hospital here.

She was born, educated and married in Vancouver. Her husband, RCMP Sgt. T. C. Fraser, has been in charge of the detachment here for the last year and a half. Previously they had lived at New Westminster, Essondale, Merritt, Quesnel, Revelstoke, Endersby, Alberni and Nanaimo.

Rev. Bernard Knipe will officiate at the service in Hirst Funeral Chapel at 2 p.m. Cremation will follow at Royal Oak, Saanich.

Surviving besides her husband are two daughters, Mrs. C. O. Bevan, Cold Lake, Alta., and Sandra, at home; three grandchildren; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Milligan, Gibsons; and a brother, Gordon.

DUNCAN—The Battle of Britain will be commemorated here Sunday with a short service on Mount Prevost.

In the ranks of Legion members will be Slim Burdette, only Royal Canadian Air Force survivor from Cowichan who took part in the 71-day fight when "B" looked as though the Messerschmitts were coming over on a conveyor belt."

Rise in Radiation Blamed on French Test, Not Russian

OTTAWA (CP)—On Feb. 23, 1960, at Whitehorse, Y.T., an increase in radioactivity in the air was recorded.

On Feb. 5 a similar observation was made at Vancouver and again at Ottawa March 29.

The assumption was that the increase, though recorded at only three of the 23 filter centres in Canada, was caused by the Feb. 13 French atomic bomb test in the Sahara.

Officials said Wednesday

chances are small that the increase was due to anything but the radioactive debris from the French nuclear test blown in an easterly direction more than three-quarters of the way around the world.

Authorities said, however, they are taking comfort from the fact that no abnormal radioactivity was recorded at Canadian stations in April, May or June.

This means that atomic debris from the smaller second French test April 1 did not reach this continent or, if it did, it was in insufficient quantity to be measured.

Officials said the daily Canadian samplings of the air have also shown that there have been no major secret nuclear tests in the Soviet Union, at least above ground.

Meanwhile, preparations have been nearly completed for Canadian radiation analysis of air, food, soil and water samples submitted by four countries which do not have the proper equipment to conduct such tests.

Names of the four countries have not yet been announced.

RUSSIAN LASHED FOR UN ATTACK

Renounce Atom War Head of Church Urges Canadians

EDMONTON (CP)—Canada should renounce nuclear war and refuse to participate in a nuclear war, Rt. Rev. Angus J. MacQueen, retiring moderator of the United Church of Canada, said Wednesday night.

There is nothing that could justify a nuclear war, he said in his farewell address as head of the largest Protestant communion in Canada. It claims more than 4,000,000 members and adherents.

NO DEFENCE

Dr. MacQueen, speaking to the 19th general council of the United Church, said the argument of self-defence cannot be supported because there is no possibility of defence in a nuclear war.

Dr. MacQueen, a London,

Ont., minister elected moderator two years ago, suggested that Canada support nuclear disarmament, a ban on nuclear bomb tests and an end to manufacture of nuclear bombs.

ALTERNATIVES

Dr. MacQueen said Canada should continue to support the United Nations and should cooperate with all nations in an attempt to find an alternative to war—a political alternative, an economic alternative and a psychological alternative and a spiritual alternative.

"We have reached the point where war is the ultimate evil against God and humanity and ethics and the future and where indiscriminate and universal nuclear extermination is the worst possibility confronting us."

MONSTROUS

"We Christians must never be guilty of mute acceptance of such a monstrous possibility," he said.

Strike Vote Threatens For Railways

MONTREAL (CP)—The possibility of a strike vote among 118,000 Canadian non-operating railway employees was raised yesterday when the CPR and CNR rejected a conciliation board report which recommended a 14 cent-an-hour increase for the workers.

CNR President Donald Gordon and CPR President N. R. Crump set out the railway companies' stand in a letter to Labor Minister Starr Wednesday.

"... We must inform you that all of the recommendations contained in the report ... are unacceptable to the railways," the letter said.

Capsule Found!

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI)—U.S. air force computers here last night led two DC-54s to a "magic" discovery of the Discoverer XVI satellite capsule after all hope of finding it in the Pacific had gone.

Capsule couldn't be found for an air catch, so sketchy tracking information was fed into the computers, which predicted an impact point.

The DC-54s, teaming into the area electronically, soon sighted the capsule's flashing light.

An amphibious plane will pick up the capsule today.

DAG HAMMARSKJÖLD ... appreciated

VALERIAN ZORIN ... failed to mention

Dag Fights Red Critic

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Soviet Russia Wednesday night attacked Dag Hammarskjöld as a tool of imperialistic designs in Africa and received a stinging rebuke from the UN secretary-general.

After Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin unleashed his slashing attack on Hammarskjöld over UN actions in the Congo, the secretary-general, his voice almost breaking at times, declared that the African countries appreciated the work of the UN.

"It seems to me they deserve better than to be told they have been misled."

TO SAVE LIVES

Zorin had castigated him for recommending that some elements of the Congolese army be disarmed. But Zorin failed to mention, said Hammarskjöld, that the action was recommended to protect human life.

To Zorin's contention that UN forces in the Congo are dominated by NATO countries, Hammarskjöld said the 8,000-man force includes only 500 from NATO nations. That figure would have been cut by half had Poland contributed troops.

NO CASES

Hammarskjöld said he knew of no cases where UN troops had opposed the Congolese army as charged by Zorin. He appeared particularly hurt by the imperialistic references.

Zorin, in his 75-minute speech, attacked Hammarskjöld personally and rejected his plea that all aid to the Congo be channelled through the UN.

One long-time UN official said it was the harshest attack ever made on Hammarskjöld.

REDS OUT?

As Zorin neared the end of his speech, there was a stir in the gallery as press dispatches were passed around stating Joseph Mobutu had apparently ordered the Soviet embassy in Leopoldville placed under guard as a preliminary to expelling the Russians from the Congo.

Army Takes Control

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—The chief of staff of the Congolese army said Wednesday night the army is taking control to save the Congo.

Col. Joseph Mobutu said the army will rule until the struggle for power is settled between President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba.

KASAVUBU MAN

In the shifting fortunes of the Congo, Mobutu has been a Kasavubu man. Mobutu asked full United Nations support. He also appealed for the co-operation of Congolese and foreign technicians.

Mobutu said it is still not clear what the positions of Kasavubu and Lumumba would be, but he called for the army to carry on and save the nation. His announcement was made in a brief radio broadcast.

FLEEING?

There were reports that Lumumba was fleeing to his home town of Stanleyville, but these could not be confirmed.

The announcement by Mobutu came shortly after Joseph Ileo, who was named premier by Kasavubu to replace Lumumba, claimed the army was swinging its support to the president.

Get in First Punch Eisenhower's Plan

WASHINGTON (CP)—

President Eisenhower will attempt to seize the initiative from Soviet Premier Khrushchev at the United Nations General Assembly by appearing there Sept. 22 to make specific proposals which, in Eisenhower's words, include a call for immediate resumption of East-West disarmament negotiations.

Eisenhower's journey to the UN, announced by the White House Wednesday, has been anticipated for some time.

Government sources said Eisenhower does not plan to offer any new or additional disarmament suggestions, standing firmly on the Western position of negotiating only step-by-step disarmament accompanied by iron-clad measures for inspection and control.

The plan is to have Eisenhower make a quick one-day appearance and deliver his punch before Khrushchev has the opportunity to make a formal speech before the assembly which opens Sept. 20.

Big Ben Too Majestically Slow

LONDON (Reuters)—The sonorous tolling of Big Ben, the world's most famous clock, is too slow for the supersonic age.

Starting Sunday, the BBC has decided that only the first stroke of the clock will be broadcast at the start of its main evening news program.

During the Battle of Britain,

the tolling of Big Ben at the start of the BBC nightly broadcast was a symbol to the world that Britain was still fighting. Now it has been decided that the old clock's cracked, 13½-ton bell takes too long to toll the hour.

The BBC announcement said: "The world's most majestic clock in its own majestic way among the slowest."

BBC to Use Lone Stroke

After all, the BBC pointed out, "when it has finished striking 10, the time has already advanced to almost three-quarters of a minute past the hour."

A protest over the abbreviated tolling of Big Ben over the BBC has been filed by the Big Ben Council, a group set up in 1940 for prayer and meditation while Big Ben tolls.
